CLASS OF 1953 ABOUT TO TAKE THE HIPPOCRATIC OATH

ADMIRAL KAUFFMAN, GOVERNOR FINE, and BISHOP CORSON

THE ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH COMMENCEMENT

The One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth Commencement was held Friday, June 12, 1953 at 11 o'clock in the American Academy of Music, Philadelphia. The Invocation was given by Right Reverend Monsignor J. Leo Boyle, P.R., St. John's Church. Vice Admiral James Laurence Kauffman, B.S., D. Eng., D.N.S., L.H.D., USN (Retired), President of the College, welcomed the graduating class and their guests and administered the Oath of Hippocrates. George Allen Bennett, A.B., M.D., Sc.D., LL.D., Dean, presented to President Kauffman one hundred and sixty candidates for the degree of Medicine. Mr. Horace P. Liversidge, chairman of the College Committee presented the Honorable John S. Fine for the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Humane Letters.

Mr. Percival E. Foerderer, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, presented the Reverend Fred Pierce Corson, Bishop of the Methodist Church, for the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Civil Laws and Carroll R. Mullen, M.D., presented Edmund B. Montgomery, M.D., class of 1878, for the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Science.

The following prizes were presented by Dean Bennett:

Henry M. Phillips Prize, in medicine, to Max Joseph Stierstorfer, with honorable mention of Rodman Brent Finkbiner and Franz Goldstein.

Henry M. Phillips Prize, in surgery, to William Burkley Millberg, with honorable mention of Donald Barclay Moore and Harold Wendell Rushton.

Practice Prize to Jay Alan Nadel.

Surgery Prize to William Keen Jenson with honorable mention of Earl McAninch Stockdale and Irvin Jacobs.

Clinical Surgery Prize to Stanley Steven Schneider with honorable mention of Richard Edward Dalrymple and Henry A. Kane.

Obstetrics and Gynecology Prize to John Waddell Smith with honorable mention of Carl Frederick Brandfass, Jr.

Gynecology Prize to Carl Frederick Brandfass, Jr., with honorable mention of Thurman Gillespy, Jr., John Waddell Smith and John Milton Levinson.

MR. HORACE P. LIVERSIDGE presents the HONORABLE JOHN S. FINE for the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters

The hood is placed on BISHOP CORSON after receiving the degree of Doctor of Civil Laws

The Pascal Brooke Bland Memorial Prize to Rodman Brent Finkbiner with honorable mention of Carl Frederick Brandfass, Jr.

Orthopedic Surgery Prize to Carl Frederick Brandfass, Jr., with honorable mention of James Megargee Hunter.

Neurology Prize to William Burkley Millberg.

Psychiatry Prize to Henry A. Kane.

Laryngology Prize to John Harold Harris, Jr., with honorable mention of Stanley Steven Schneider.

Urology Prize to Rodman Brent Finkbiner with honorable mention of Carl Frederick Brandfass, Jr. and Manuel C. Fernandez.

The Henry Keller Mohler Memorial Prize to Rodman Brent Finkbiner with honorable mention of Franz Goldstein and Manuel C. Fernandez.

DOCTOR MONTGOMERY receives the degree of Doctor of Science

W. B. Saunders Company Prize to Franz Goldstein.

The C. V. Mosby Company Prizes to Robert Jay Rubin, Richard Edward Dalrymple, Robert Poole, III, Dale Charles Rehanek, Louis Joseph Wilkie.

The S. MacCuen Smith Memorial Prize to Richard Wick Naef with honorable mention of William Burkley Millberg and Robert Doyle.

William Potter Memorial Prize to Franz Goldstein.

The Albert Einstein Medical Center Award to Franz Goldstein.

Alumni Prize to Franz Goldstein.

DOCTOR MONTGOMERY, having completed 75 years of practice, congratulates DR. HAMPTON PAYNE CORSON, a member of the Class of 1953, who stands on the threshold of his medical career

The Address was given by the Honorable John S. Fine, LL.B., LL.D., Governor, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The Exercises closed with a Benediction by Dr. David H. Wice, M.A., DD., Rabbi Congregation Rodolph Shalom.

Andrew J. Ramsay, M.D., was General Marshal, Robert B. Nye, M.D., Marshal of the Faculty, Charles P. Kraatz, M.D., Marshall of Distinguished Guests, Warren W. Nichols '54 and William H. Taylor '54 Student Marshals.

MR. PERCIVAL E. FOERDERER, DR. EDMUND B. MONTGOMERY, and MR. LESSING J. ROSENWALD join in looking at their awards.

THE ANNUAL ALUMNI DINNER

The Annual Alumni Dinner was held Thursday, June 11, 1953 at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel with an attendance of over eight hundred. Dr. Carroll R. Mullen '26, President of the Alumni Association, acted as Toastmaster and presided with warm geniality throughout the evening.

Dr. Mullen, President of the Alumni Association, welcomed the guests on behalf of the Association. He congratulated members of the Class of 1953 who had just joined the Association as a body. He pointed out that only a few classes had a total of one hundred percent membership. He also said that the Class of 1953 had presented a gift to the College totaling approximately $1600, to be used by the Alumni Association in the production of a film library. The President stated that this very warm and generous gesture of participation and material aid to the Alumni Association from the Senior Class should be a matter of inspiration and pride to the entire membership.

He welcomed the Class of 1953 as new members of the organization and urged that each and every one continue to maintain an active interest in the affairs of the College through the medium of the Alumni Association.

He pointed out that if they expected nothing from the College that they would not be disappointed. On the other hand, he stated that their initial efforts and interest indicated that they expected a great deal from the College and, therefore, they had a paramount right to share with pride in the continued advancement of the College.

Dr. Mullen also stressed the renewed activities of the Organization and General Membership Committee under the leadership of Dr. Kenneth E. Fry '31. Several new chapters have been organized and others have been re-activated. Some officers of the Alumni Association have attended all chapter meetings during the past six months. The President stated it would continue to be a policy of the Executive Committee to send officers and Heads of Departments of the College to all chapter meetings whenever possible.

Certificates of awards and medals were presented to Mr. Percival E. Foerderer, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and to Mr. Lessing J. Rosenwald, member of the Board by Dr. Mullen. He paid great tribute to these two men who are completing their twenty-fifth year of devoted service to the College. He congratulated them upon the success of their endeavors to improve Jefferson and extended to them the sincere appreciation and thanks of all members of the Alumni Association for their unselfish and untiring efforts in behalf of the institution.

CARROLL R. MULLEN, M.D.

MR. PERCIVAL E. FOERDERER, Chairman of the Board, addresses the alumni

Dr. Mullen then asked Mr. Foerderer to speak.

"Mr. President, Gentlemen of the Alumni and Guests:

This is the 83rd Anniversary of the founding of the Jefferson Alumni Association, so I should like to remind you of only a few of its accomplishments since its founding.

In reviewing the early history of College Alumni associations, I learned that this type of organization is, practically speaking, limited to American institutions. Continental European universities have nothing equivalent and the English and Scottish universities have associations only vaguely similar to ours.

It is interesting too, to find that the earliest recorded alumni organization was that of Williams College, formed in 1821, twenty-eight years after the founding of the college (1793). Bowdoin followed in 1825, thirty-one years after her founding. The other early associations are: Princeton, 1826; Rutgers, 1833; Virginia, 1837. Up to 1875 there were only thirty-five such organizations, Jefferson was one of these as it was formed in 1870. Today, there is hardly a college in the United States that does not have an alumni association. Furthermore, few, if any, trade or professional organizations have any better, if as good a system in contacting and following up its members.

It has been said "an alumnus may report himself dead in order to escape the persistence of the alumni secretary, but he does not escape, for nothing but an undertaker's burial certificate satisfies the efficient secretary". Surely, as is proven here tonight, no Jefferson alumnus, no matter how many miles he may reside from Philadelphia, or how far back into the history of the institution he may date, but is conscious of the Alumni Association of his Alma Mater.

The main purpose of practically all these associations is to promote the welfare of their Alma Mater. This was the purpose of our association. Dr. Samuel D. Gross did the missionary work among our graduates and in 1870 perfected the organization of The Jefferson Alumni Association. Immediately after it was organized it shared in the burden of erecting a larger clinical hospital. This hospital was opened for inspection May 1, 1877, and was one of the first in America to be built, owned and controlled by a medical school for teaching purposes. It is doubtful if the hospital could have been built without the aid of Jefferson's Alumni.

In the ensuing years since its founding you have lived up to the purpose for which it was founded. You will,

I am sure, be interested if I recall a few of the many contributions of our association. I say "our" as I treasure highly my Honorary Membership in it.

It aided not only in providing us with the first hospital and laboratory, but also the hospital we now call "the old hospital" was built in 1907, the Thompson Annex built in 1924. And now our new Jefferson Pavilion is at present under construction. Many of the bronze tablets that line our halls were gifts of our organization.

You have given much to our library.

Through the Annual Giving Fund, you have been most helpful in strengthening our pre-clinical departments.

Our two war tablets in the corridor of the College remind us that many of our Alumni have also made the "supreme sacrifice" for our country in the name of Jefferson.

Among the numerous objects of art contributed is the famous painting "The Surgical Clinic of Professor Gross" by the now famous painter, Thomas Eakins. The painting is renowned and many requests come to us from all over the world to loan it for exhibition. Because we value it so highly, we are forced to refuse most of these requests.

A recent exception was made in 1950 at the Diamond Jubilee Celebration of the Philadelphia Museum of Art, when over 92,000 attended. Masterpieces from all parts of the world were exhibited. By popular vote "The Gross Clinic" was selected as the third choice. It was shown so dramatically that, according to a statement by the museum curator, some men fainted at their first sight of it. That sounds like a hyperbole but he gave it as a fact.

In addition, your contributions of money have been extremely generous and helpful, amounting at this date to over $1,000,000.

Some of the purposes of these financial gifts were for the Da Costa Memorial in the College, the completion of the Department of Pharmacology, Building and Teaching Funds, and also a fund to be used at the discretion of the Trustees.

All through the years you have assisted and supported when a need arose, we have always had your vigorous and sustained interest.

Those of us who are responsible for directing Jefferson's course realize the strength of the Alumni of more than 6,000 men. We are deeply appreciative of all the association has accomplished in the past, and cheered and encouraged by all it stands ready to do in the future.

You have never failed your Alma Mater."

Dr. Mullen then introduced Admiral Kauffman, President of Jefferson, who spoke as follows:

PRESIDENT JAMES L. KAUFFMAN

"Doctor Mullen, distinguished guests, and members of the Jefferson Alumni:

First, I wish to pay my respects to Doctor Edmund Montgomery who is honoring us with his presence on the 75th Anniversary of his Graduation from Jefferson. I also pay my respects to the numerous other Class Reunions — particularly to the Class of 1908, as it happens that I managed to graduate that year from the Naval Academy.

Second, I wish to express my congratulations to Doctor Mullen on his able handling of the Presidency of your Association during this year.

Since 1949, when I came to Jefferson as President, it has been my privilege to attend these meetings and to address you. In the past four years my remarks have had to do largely with explaining our financial troubles and situation.

In these four years in Civilian Life, I have learned quite a bit about finances — particularly in connection with medical institutions — and about dealing with the personnel thereof. I have listened to many sad tales on the need for more money, more personnel, more facilities, etc., until I can shed a tear at a moment's notice. I am not becoming too cynical but I have been thinking of a story they told in the Near East, immediately after World War I, when I was with the Destroyers based on Constantinople, and we visited the various countries in that part of the world, looking after United States' interests. One of them was particularly well-known for having many light-fingered gentlemen, so when a new ship arrived on the Station, they would tell the following story of a young American businessman who went to this small country.

He had letters of introduction to the high officials which he promptly delivered, and the Prime Minister asked him to a large reception. The American attended and there met many prominent people. After a short while he looked to see what time it was, and missed his watch. The watch was an heirloom, and as he thought he had probably left it on his bureau, he decided to return to the hotel, and went to the Prime Minister to say goodbye.

The Prime Minister said, "Why the party has just begun. Why do you leave so soon?"

The American told him about missing his watch, and the Prime Minister said, "Just a minute. With whom have you been talking?"

The American replied, "Ridiculous. I wouldn't think of suspecting anyone here."

"Never mind that. To whom were you speaking?" repeated the Prime Minister.

The American gave him several names, including that of the Minister of Finance. And the Prime Minister requested him to wait for him for a few minutes. In a short time the Prime Minister was back, showing him a watch, with the query, "Is this yours?"

The astonished American said, "Why, yes, but I hope you did not have any fuss about it."

To this the Prime Minister returned, "Why, no. He doesn't know I have it."

Frankly, the Administration is doing everything possible to aid and abet the Dean and the Faculty in carrying out their plans for improvement. We are trying to run the college as economically, and yet as efficiently as possible, having due regard for research, changes in methods of teaching, etc.

At the moment we are all concerned about the situation in Harrisburg where the Appropriations Bills are stoppered. The Governor has recommended a substantial increase in our appropriation for the next biennium which we hope and pray we will obtain.

The cost of education of one medical student for one year is now $3,625 and I might add that the Student Council has given me a figure of $2600, the amount the Council estimates is the minimum cost for living, for a student at Jefferson, per year.

In spite of all of the above bad news, there is one bright spot—Your contribution to the Alumni Giving Fund. If it were not for that, we could not obtain or continue the high class personnel in our Pre-clinical Faculty.

Again, I am delighted to be here with you, and I can assure you that Jefferson will not only carry on the old traditions, but will make new ones. Thank you."

In presenting Dr. George A. Bennett, Dr. Mullen stated that he could not have been a better dean even if he had graduated from Jefferson. In paying tribute to Dr. Bennett, Dr. Mullen in behalf of the Association, expressed great appreciation for the interest and assistance that the Dean had given to officers and members of the Executive Committee. He pointed out that Dr. Bennett and he had attended most of the Spring and Summer meetings of Alumni Chapters. He also expressed appreciation for the able way in which Dr. Bennett had conducted the affairs of his Office and said we would do well to note the splendid example thus set us and profit thereby.

DEAN GEORGE A. BENNETT, M.D.

"Mr. President, Gentlemen of The Alumni and Distinguished Guests:

With the unfailing devotion of elder children, you have come here tonight to attend upon your venerable Alma Mater in the hour of her annual travail, and you are gathered about her to witness the birth of the latest edition to the family, the Class of 1953. Those 160 new pledges, those new pledges of her never failing and ever renewing creative power. We salute you, and we wish you Godspeed on that journey of life which tomorrow you will begin so auspiciously.

Your degree is an assurance to the world that you start in the race with more or less medical learning, of varying degree; but let us hope that every man of you has got and carried away with him what is better than all your learning — and, what it has been our boast to believe, that the training of Jefferson has always tended to cultivate — an honest and manly character, a hatred of all shams and humbugs, an earnest purpose to make the most of yourselves, and to serve your times as real physicians and your country as good citizens and patriots.

It warms my heart when I look about and see so many who have returned to again meet their fellow alumni. It is always good to see so many class reunions, and such large ones, because I realize the planning and subsequent work involved in making these reunions the success they are.

I am always deeply touched at your constant devotion to Jefferson, her traditions and her ever-increasing achievements. It is of these achievements that I wish to speak to you tonight.

For a good medical school, one needs a strong and active faculty, an able student body, a sound educational program and adequate facilities and support.

I feel that we have such a faculty in each of the departments of this college. Tangible evidence of this is the national and international recognition constantly accorded members of our staff. In the past year we have added strength to our Department of Medicine by appointing Doctor John Deitrick as head of that department, and Doctor Charles McKhann as head of the Department of Pediatrics. Furthermore, we are pleased to announce that a worthy successor has been found for Doctor Gruber. As you may have heard, Doctor Gruber will retire July first as head of the Department of Pharmacology. He will be succeeded by Doctor Julius M. Coon — at present an Associate Professor of Pharmacology at the University of Chicago. Doctor Coon will begin his duties at Jefferson on September first of this year.

As to our students: We have 662 undergraduate medical students this year and 30 graduate students as compared with 651 and 22 last year. Applications for admission to Jefferson continue to be about ten times the number of places available.

Our Freshman Class entering in September 1953 will number 170. Concerning the First Year Class which will enter this fall, the following statistics will, I believe, be of interest. A total of 58 of the incoming freshmen have some Jefferson relationship, and eighteen are sons of Jefferson graduates.

22 are veterans

1 foreign student (from China)

120 come from Pennsylvania

17 from New Jersey

and altogether

19 States

72 Colleges and

30 Counties of Pennsylvania are represented.

A major change in the curriculum of our medical school was executed this past year. Full-time clinical clerkships were put into effect in each of the various Clinical Departments for the junior and senior students, and I believe that the majority of our students and faculty are of the opinion that a step in the right direction has been made. Of course the final solution as to the best medical curriculum has not been found, and continued changes are to be expected and hoped for. There is, in particular, a great need to weld together and integrate to a better degree all of the diverse subject matter in our curriculum. All too frequently each department head works alone, and in his teaching effort emphasizes the importance of his own special interest rather than fitting it properly into the total effort.

If you would allow me to be facetious, I should like to read Doctor Reavis' short treatise entitled The Animal School, as it reflects the thoughts of some medical educators on the present state of curricula in medical schools.

"Once upon a time the animals decided that they must do something heroic to meet the problems of a new world, so they organized a school. They adopted an activity curriculum, consisting of running, climbing, swimming and flying. To make it easier to administer the curriculum, all the animals took all subjects. The duck was excellent in swimming, in fact better than his instructor, but he made only passing grades in flying and was very poor in running. Since he was slow in running, he had to stay after school and also drop swimming in order to practice running. This was kept up until his web feet were badly worn and he was only average in swimming, but average was acceptable in school, so nobody worried about that except the duck.

The rabbit started at the top of the class in running, but had a nervous breakdown because of so much make-up work in swimming. The squirrel was excellent in climbing until he developed frustration in the flying class, where his teacher made him start from the ground up instead of from the tree top down. He also developed charley-horses from overexertion and then got a "C" in climbing and a "D" in running. The eagle was a problem child and was disciplined severely. In the climbing class he beat all the others to the top of the tree, but insisted on using his own way to get there. At the end of the year, an abnormal eel that could swim exceedingly well, and also run, climb and fly a little had the highest average and was valedictorian. The prairie dog stayed out of the school and fought the tax levy because the administration could not add digging and burrowing to the curriculum. They apprenticed their child to a badger and later joined the groundhogs and gophers to start a successful private school."

In the minds of many medical educators the time is here for all medical schools to start "Prairie Dog-Groundhog-and Gopher" schools. I do not believe that medical curricula need quite such drastic changes but modifications are necessary.

Adequate facilities in the college for the activities of the clinical members of our faculty are still lacking. I am happy to report to you, however, that since last year the eleventh floor of 1025 Walnut Street is nearing completion. The space which will shortly become available there will help certain of our Clinical Departments, namely: Pediatrics, Neurosurgery, Orthopedics, Medicine and Preventive Medicine. It will, by no means, be sufficient to meet our needs. I hope, however, that next year we can acquire the ninth floor of the college so that our needs will be better met.

As you have heard this evening, it is still uncertain what support we shall receive from the state for this biennium. However, I am optimistic. I look forward with optimism to the years ahead, years which I am sure will produce achievements in which we all can take continuing pride and satisfaction, because gentlemen, in addition to the attainments of which I have spoken briefly this evening, no college ever had a more thoughtful, interested and industrious board of trustees, or a more loyal group of alumni than we."

It gave Dr. Mullen great pleasure to inform the dinner guests that the Board of Trustees would confer the degree of Doctor of Science on Dr. Edmund B. Montgomery, Class of 1878, at the Commencement exercises the following day. An award of Merit from the Alumni Association was made to Dr. Montgomery and to Dr. Andrew B. Harbison (in absentia) of Crescent City, Florida, Class of 1878, who was unable to attend the meeting. In presenting

DR. MULLEN introduces DR. MONTGOMERY

Dr. Montgomery, Dr. Mullen asked members of the graduating class of 1953 to project themselves into the future, stating that if they could return to an Alumni banquet in Philadelphia in 2028, that they would be experiencing exactly what the next speaker was feeling at the moment. Dr. Montgomery is celebrating his seventy-fifth year of graduation from Jefferson. As Dr. Montgomery was introduced everyone rose in tribute to this veteran alumnus.

Dr. Montgomery made a very gracious response saying:
"Mr. President and Fellow Alumni:

"It gives me great pleasure to see so many of you on this occasion. Especially as today I am celebrating my 75th Anniversary of graduating from my beloved college which event occurred in March of 1878.

"My first visit to Philadelphia was when I was five years old, and my present one, ninety years later, is only one of many made here in the interval. I have been a member of the 50 year club of physicians for many years and have attended many of their meetings in various parts of the United States and have taken an active part in them. I tried several times to induce my friend, Dr. Percy of Galesburg, Illinois, later of Los Angeles, California, to join me but he always declined saying, "When you have a 75 year club, call on me. I'll be ready then." I think today I might figure as a charter member of such a club, but alas! I know not where to look for members. Dr. Percy left us several years ago.

DOCTOR MULLEN awards the citation for 75 years of devoted practice to DOCTOR MONTGOMERY, Class of 1878

"My first introduction into medicine following attendance previously at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy was in my attendance of the meeting of the International Medical Congress held here in 1876 with our beloved professor, Samuel D. Gross, presiding. I have here a program of the meeting which I gave to Jefferson. The section on surgery was presided over by Dr. John T. Hodgen of St. Louis, Missouri, and his address was on "Antiseptic Surgery" and he was enthusiastic about Lister's Methods. He met with no support from members of the section but, as Lister himself was present at another section, Dr. Hodgen called him to close the discussion; which he did, of course, in a masterly manner. This was the finest of all the medical meetings I have attended in the intervening 77 years and has kept me always alert for the advancements that have occurred and are still occurring in our realm of the medical and other natural sciences. Some of these I might have more to say about but with so many of you younger men here I should be 'Carrying Coals to Newcastle.'

"I will, therefore, refrain and only again express my pleasure in seeing so many of you and hoping that that pleasure may occur again at some future time."

DR. MONTGOMERY discusses with DR. THOMAS A. SHALLOW, Class of 1911, the progress of Surgery in the past 75 years.

ADMIRAL KAUFFMAN chats with DOCTOR MONTGOMERY

Dr. Mullen then introduced the president of the senior class, Dr. Joseph J. Armao, Jr., who spoke with great feeling and enthusiasm.

"Dr. Mullen, Members of the Board of Trustees, Admiral Kauffman, Dean Bennett, Alumni and classmates.

"Our Dean spoke of courses in swimming, jumping and climbing. We, of the class of 1953 have passed these courses. During the past four years we have had to sink or swim in many an examination. We also managed to jump every obstacle the faculty placed before us. Tomorrow at high noon we will be climbing all over the stage at the Academy of Music after those diplomas.

"As a representative of the class of '53, I wish to thank Dr. Mullen and the members of the Board of Trustees for inviting us here this evening. It has been a memorable occasion for all of us.

"Having been low men on the totem pole for the past four years we have all looked forward to becoming members of the Alumni Association. Within the past few months we have come to realize the important functions of this organization. Jefferson could not exist without the support of her loyal alumni. The excellent education we received was made possible by a very competent faculty and the generosity of those who preceded us. As Jefferson graduates, then, we are morally obligated to extend to those who follow us the same advantages we enjoyed.

"The class of 1953 has already indicated that it will assume its share of responsibility as active alumni. Our yearbook staff did an excellent job this year realizing a profit of approximately $2400. At a class meeting it was decided that 800 dollars be given to the Alumni Association resulting in 100% membership. The remaining 1600 dollars was to be used to purchase certain items for the College Library. However, since the Library had sufficient funds to purchase these items, this money will be used by the Alumni Association to produce a motion picture film of the Medical College.

"Since this is the last opportunity I will have to address my classmates as a group, I want to thank them for their cooperation in the past and to wish them both happiness and success in their medical careers."

President of the Class of 1953 JOSEPH J. ARMAO, M.D.

Dr. Mullen then introduced Henry A. Davidson, M.D., representing the 25th Anniversary Class, who spoke on the "Old Professors Were Right".

"Fellow alumni, including the natural sons of Jefferson, as well as those who are alumni by adoption, you will see that I am wearing a red rose in my lapel. Lest those of you with lewd and low minds reach an erroneous conclusion, I hasten to explain that this is one of a bouquet sent to the class of 1928 by our classmate, Dr. En Shui Tai of Hong Kong. Dr. Tai, though he has lived half a world away since he left this school in 1928, has always been fiercely proud of his Jefferson heritage, and has maintained his contacts with us. His sense of identification with Jefferson has obviously been something very precious to him, and we here salute him for it.

"The 25 year class likes to think of itself as being composed of young men, even though, in truth, most of us are entering the bifocal, full-denture and enlarged prostate set. Our "middle-agedness" comes into focus when we think back to our graduation here in 1928 and recall that that was the time when the Kellogg-Briand pact had just outlawed war for all time, when Abie's Irish Rose was the main attraction on Broadway, and when "Korea" was only a synonym for St. Vitus Dance.

"That was the time too, when certain new ideas were just coming into medicine. Like most young squirts, we were carrying the torch for these new ideas. Our professors shook their heads and said that the ideas were all wrong. It was becoming the fashion then to write prescriptions in English instead of in Latin, to prescribe a single drug instead of an elegant mixture, to let the pharmacist worry about incompatibilities if any, and to use metric instead of apothecaries' doses. That was the time when doctors were urged to abandon their affectations of dress, and were told to plunge actively into civic affairs. Our professors bemoaned these ideas and we laughed at them as old fogies.

"But now the wheel of time has relentlessly turned. We are now in the senior group and are beginning to feel uncomfortably that the professors were right. The ghosts of Hare and DaCosta, Thornton and Solis-Cohen, Brubaker and McCrae can laugh at us. And that deep double laugh comes from the merriest of ghosts in the Jefferson pantheon, the ghost of Randle C. Rosenberger.

"In our medical school days, some doctors clung to the traditional grooming of the physicians: the Van Dyke beard, the little black bag, the pince nez "eye-glasses," the frock coat. This struck us then as very funny for it was the new gospel for the doctor to look like anyone else. And so today, you cannot tell a doctor from a labor union executive or a certified public accountant unless you have access to their income tax returns. And while physicians are trying to make themselves look less distinctive, the title "doctor" is being appropriated by psychologists — you know they now say that a psychiatrist is a fellow who dares to practice psychotherapy without having a Ph.D. degree — by psychologists, gymnasium teachers, professors of literature and piano players in brothels. Our old professors used to say then that members of a dedicated brotherhood like medicine should identify themselves proudly in some distinctive fashion. They were right!

"Dear old Doctor Thornton used to insist that we write for "pilulae hydragryri chloridi mitis compositae". We laughed that off and wrote in plain English for "compound cathartic pills". Latin, we said, was too old fashioned for us torch bearers of a brave new medical world. So we destroyed much of the emotional value of a prescription by changing it from a ritual into a merchandise order. Think how precious that piece of paper must have been in the days when Hobart Amory Hare wrote his elegant prescriptions! A long and impressive Latin phrase. A mysterious squiggle to represent drachms. The care the doctor took to avoid incompatibilities — does any one here in the class of 1953 even know what an incompatibility is? — and the careful calculation so that a teaspoon would deliver just the right number of grains in a three ounce mixture, not a 30 cubic centimeter or 90 cubic centimeter mixture either. Seen through the patient's eyes, this was a work of art, neatly tailor-made just for him, and not something mass produced by a pharmaceutical belt-line. And it was so mysterious an alembic that the layman would have thought it sacriligious to ask how it exerted its special healing powers. He could not expect to understand what the doctor conjured up as a result of years of study: and what the pharmacist, himself the product of centuries of esoteric alchemy, would mysteriously compound behind the screen.

"This picture is a bit corny, perhaps: but it lent to the doctor-patient relationship that extra element of complete confidence, that childlike assurance that father knows best, that gossamer touch of God-like mystery, which was a splendid foundation for the healing process.

"But in 1928 we wise young men laughed at all that. When we write a prescription, we inscribe "Vitamin B. Capsules" in big bold letters that the patient can read. He also wonders why he can't go to the pharmacy and ask for that himself. So what was once a transcendental, almost magical relationship, has become a vulgar retail transaction. The once honored prescription blank serves now no more purpose than a note in the neck of a milk bottle asking the man to leave two small cheeses.

"And then we abandoned the grain. Our professors did not like grams and milligrams but we were wiser. Metric doses were so much more scientific! Yet, in truth, the grain was in the middle of the spectrum of drugs taken by mouth, for the dose ranged from 1/150 to 5 grains: simple fractions or easy-to-handle whole numbers. But the gram is at the extreme top of the scale, so that all doses must be stated in decimal fractions with the chance for miscounting the zeros or misplacing the decimal point. The gram is the unit of commerce. The grain, by contrast, is not used in trade, but only for the precious stuff of life — like a grain of silver, a grain of a potent drug, or — a grain of common sense.

"The idea of explaining diagnosis and treatment to the patient became the fashion in our days as medical students. Our elders pointed out that this would belittle our work and make it look deceptively simple. They cried that you simply could not educate a layman in medicine by showing him pictures. But we passed that off as horse-and-buggy thinking. So we let the patient see the details of an operation in a magazine photograph or on the television screen. This makes it look as if surgery were only human carpentry, for the pictures cannot reflect the travail of surgical judgment. Similarly, we have so popularized medical lore that we cannot blame the layman for assuming that the practice of medicine consists in flipping a coin to decide which antibiotic to give. And then we wonder why the public no longer thinks of us as practitioners of a difficult discipline but rather as craftsmen following a blueprint.

"We used to laugh at the old professors because they wanted the doctor to remain aloof from the affairs of the market-place or affairs of the political forum. So we, in our superior wisdom, plunged into both — up to our necks.

And now we wonder what has happened to the respect for doctors which characterized American culture during the first decade of this century. We wonder why the public is so critical of organized medicine, why so many physicians somehow find themselves bossed by laymen.

"Can you imagine John Chalmers DaCosta being cross-examined by a legislative committee? Or Thomas McCrae being scolded by a newspaper columnist for lack of interest in a patient's welfare? Or Randle Rosenberger being bossed by a lay commissioner? We know that this kind of contempt for the doctor would have been impossible with men like that. And we wonder . . . what did they have that we don't have?

"Perhaps it was because they knew that it was good for the patient to believe that somehow his doctor, like his priest, was not quite the same as any other ordinary man; that like the priest, he was a selfless and dedicated person whose office was a temple of healing not a retail establishment. Among ourselves, we know that we are ordinary human beings, fallible and ignorant. But in relations with patients, they at least knew how to preserve the wholesome delusion that the doctor had been touched lightly, but unmistakably, by the hand of God, so that he would be worthy of being entrusted with power over life and death. We laughed at that quaint notion back in 1928. But now, we wonder.

"These grand old giants were right, after all!"

There are eighteen living ex-Presidents of the Alumni Association of the Jefferson Medical College. By action of the Executive Committee, each living ex-President was presented with an engraved gavel noting the years of his presidency and service to the Association. Dr. Mullen warmly congratulated each ex-president and thanked him on behalf of the Alumni for the years of his leadership and aid to the organization.

The evening was a memorable one — the speeches were excellent — the class reunions most successful — and the evening was enjoyed by all.

The banquet adjourned at 10:05 P.M. a new record for our alumni dinners.

DEAN ENTERTAINS ALUMNI

On Thursday, June 11, the Dean entertained at the Buffet Luncheon for the visiting Alumni. There were about four hundred guests who enjoyed the informal meal and the opportunity to talk over old times with old friends.

The Dean's Luncheon for the Alumni is an advent to which they all look forward to with pleasant anticipation.

Good to have the Old Guard with us again!

55th REUNION

The Class of 1898 celebrated its 55th Anniversary at the Alumni Dinner, Thursday, June 11. Doctor George T. Tracy made a great effort to have the men return for the Alumni Dinner.

GEORGE T. TRACY, M.D.
Chairman

attended: Doctors Lawrence A. Sheridan, William E. Washabaugh, Robert M. Patterson, Meyer J. Katz, Darius C. Moore, Augustin P. Munsch, James A. Gormley, James N. Swan, Augustus H. Clagett, Henry E. Miller, Ferdinand F. Fledderjohann, Marcus W. Newcomb.

We are sorry to report that Dr. W. P. Roberts died on February 26, 1953. Dr. Richard M. King died on January 9, 1953. Dr. Lawrence W. Dana died just a few days before our reunion.

Everyone had a good time reminiscing and giving experiences in the practice of medicine during the last fifty years. Everyone promised to return next June for our Fifty-First Reunion, providing we are living.

The following class members expressed their regret at not being able to be with us on this important occasion: Doctors George Hay, Johnston, Pa.; Emile L. Cottrell, San Jose, California; Thomas H. Platt, Jr., Beach Haven Terrace, New Jersey; Frederick C. Smith, Chevy Chase, Maryland; Albert M. Gibson, Lower Peach Tree, Alabama; William McEwen Edwards, San Rafael, California; Charles R. Heed, Haverford, Pa.; J. Hume Miller, Wildwood, New Jersey; George P. Pilling, Jr., Philadelphia, Pa.; R. K. Ogilvie, Berkeley, California; Francis W. White, New York, New York; J. S. Ullman, Natchez, Mississippi.

40th REUNION

Nineteen of the class had a very enjoyable Reunion Luncheon and afternoon at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel on June 10. John E. Livingood gave a very interesting report on his recent trip through England, Scotland, Wales, France and part of Germany illustrated by beautiful Kodachrome slides. Guy G. Campbell spoke on some of the highlights relating to his Public Health Service in Ethiopia, other sections of Africa, South America and the South Pacific. The following members of the class reported on interesting events in their lives: Richard C. Beebe, Albert F. Beck, John B. Flick, Frederick C. Freed, William J. Goetz, Amos W. Gottschall, William E. Grove, Paul E. Haskett, Walter R. Krauss, Theo W. O'Brien, Warren T. O'Hara, Norman J. Quinn, George R. Storm, Jacob Walker, Francis E. Weatherby, Louis W. Wright, and Owen R. Etter '17, a guest.

The next day William D. Rodgers, Jr., joined the Reunion group for the Dean's Luncheon and the interesting tour of the Surgical (Heart-Lung Machine) and Medical Research Laboratories.

We thank the Dean very much for his fine luncheon and open house.

After our Class Cocktail Party fourteen attended the interesting Annual Dinner.

Congratulations for our successful reunion go to those who contributed funds, letters, telegrams and attendance. Also many thanks for Mrs. Melrose E. Weed's assistance and the fine work of Walter R. Krauss, Secretary-Treasurer of our reunion.

45th CLASS REUNION

The following twenty-six classmen attended our 45th Class Day, June 11, 1953. Doctors Bortz, Calvert, Eister, Fortesque, Fritch, Griesmer, Hemminger, Holmes, Jones, Kirk, Klinzing, Kremens, Laughrey, Lescher, Luhr, McMullin, Phifer, Orton, Rumbaugh, Stimson, Susman, Swab, Sweeney, Yoder, Zeck, Zelle.

They were a jolly crew with forty-five years of experience with death dealing germs, viruses, and accidents: wiser each year and faithful to their Alma Mater, the source of their medical beginning.

The class of 1908 has this year given the highest amount to the Alumni Annual Giving Fund.

Although 1908 gave $5,650.00 this year, we feel we are no challenge to other classes who are larger, and hope they will set their goal higher in the coming years.

We are proud of every 1908 man: you are loyal to Jefferson, and it is only because you are what you are that we take time to write you the boring letters with occasional appeals in the interest of the College we still love, after leaving her portals forty-five years ago. We wish for all of you good health, and our hope is to see you all in 1958.

35th REUNION

The Class of 1918 had their 35th Reunion on Wednesday, June 10, 1953. Sixteen attended the luncheon at Bookbinder's and twenty-seven members of the class were present at the dinner given that evening at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel. Dean George A. Bennett, M.D., was guest of honor.

The Class of 1918

30th REUNION

Twenty-five members of the Class of 1923 returned for their 30th Reunion. Headquarters for the group were in the Benjamin Franklin Hotel where a luncheon was held June 10. Wednesday night, the ladies joined us in a delightful social hour before dinner—then a good dinner accompanied by appropriate music and very interesting talks and reports by Harvey Bauman, Herman H. Hostetter and Theodore I. Roth.

Those in attendance were:

Louis Antupit	Edward Lebovitz
Harvey R. Bauman	William Matthews
John M. Brewster	Carl E. Miksch
W. Emory Burnett	Capers Owings
William L. Colgan	Henry Pohl
Henri E. Gauthier	George Richardson
George B. German	Theodore L. Roth
Samuel T. Gordy	Abraham L. Sherk
Benjamin Haskell	Samuel S. Simons
Francis L. C. Heikes	George Thomas
Augustus F. Herff	Howard Thomas
Ralph F. Himes	George Willauer
Herman Hostetter

Regrets with very good reasons were received from more than twenty other members of the class.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY REUNION

The class in the spotlight during the 1953 festivities was the class of 1928, the Silver Anniversary Class. The brethren started drifting in from all corners of the country on June 9, and by June 10 some fifty of the 135 survivors of 1928 were slapping backs and shaking hands all along Tenth and Walnut. The class dance on the evening of June 10 was a memory contest for many, and a sight for sore eyes — including lots of bifocal and even a few presbyopic ones. In the early evening of June 11, the class had a pre-banquet reception at the Benjamin Franklin, and by the time it was over, some 75 members of the class had drifted in. Dr. En Shui Tai sent a bouquet of roses with a note of affection for all. The class speaker at the Annual Banquet wore one of the roses and told the Alumni Association what it symbolized.

High spot of the week was the Grand Banquet on the night of June 11. The class of 1928 overflowed four tables. The toastmaster kept calling for the other five year classes to rise and take bows—the twenty year class and the thirty year class, the fifteen year and the thirty-five year—and after a while the class of 1928 began to feel neglected. Not for long, though. At the climax of the Banquet the toastmaster called for the silver anniversary class to show itself — and they did! And the class of 1928 was honored by having its chosen representative, Dr. Henry Davidson, now of Washington, D. C., as the principal speaker at the banquet.

Dr. Davidson brought the evening to an appropriate close with a short and wistful talk entitled "The Old Professors Were Right".

20th REUNION

At the 20th Reunion a grand old time was had by all. Following interesting papers by Anthony Ruppertsberg and Daniel C. Baker, we retired to the Alpha Club as guests of Charles W. Semisch for a dandy luncheon. Among those present were Frank B. Geibel, Charles J. Chodoff, Anthony Pellicane, Anthony Sellitto, Anthony Ruppertsberg, Daniel C. Baker, Charles Semisch and Edward C. Britt.

Before the Alumni Banquet, we had a room at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel for cocktails. It was good to see such old pals as Murray Elkins, Jacob J. Kirshner, Theodore Schlossbach, Eugene E. Raymond, Jesse H. Bond, Leon N. Prince, James S. F. Wong, Stanley M. Stapinski, Rudolph

10th REUNION

The class of 1943 held a cocktail party on June 12 at 3:00 P.M. in room 252 of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel and then attended the Alumni Banquet as a body. Forty-five members were present as follows: Doctors Nelson, Groff, Grugan, Hecksher, Norton, Tobias, Kzin, H. Smith, Howe, Grady, Deardorff, Karsha, McHugh, Hoffman, McCloskey, Rose, McGinty, Fisher, Fulton, Headrick, Kinsey, Conrady, B. Miller, Hamburg, Crawford, Helden, Hilferty, R. CLASS OF 1948 — 5th REUNION

The thirty-three vociferous members of the Class of 1948, that gathered at the Alumni Dinner last June, created no mean reputation. The small and decidedly ludicrous hats that adorned our pates were the hallmark of the occasion as far as our Class was concerned. After five years, it was warming indeed to renew old acquaintances. Our cocktail party began rather quietly at 4:30 P.M. in a side room of the Benjamin Franklin; but after a few Manhattans and Martinis, the distinguished clinicians present became once again the "Chassey boys" of yore. George Risi, Andy Cerny, Bill Peterson and some others who are in general practice, made a common complaint "too busy"; and their anecdotes were interesting and numerous.

Hand-clasping and elbow-bending exercises were accelerated somewhat following an unexpected visitation from two fugitives of a neighboring but irrelevant "lunch-eon", who just "loved to meet Doctors". Our table manners, at the dinner, were not of the best, but the spirit was there and the relatively demure groups close by offered no competition whatsoever. Joe Carroll led an expedition to redistribute the floral centerpieces! This project became contagious, and I believe, spread to chicken bones later on. Danny Shaw lent a helping hand and assisted with our few business details. We managed to say a silent prayer for Steinmetz, who was on his honeymoon. I understand George Pechstein & Co. represented the class in an official goodbye to the Kite and Key Bartender at one A.M.

The success of our first reunion was obvious and most gratifying to your Secretary. We'll put the highlights from a decidedly gala get-together on the shelf now, and look forward to receiving a few lines from all of you to swell the forthcoming Fall Edition of Our Class News Letter.

DR. CHEVALIER JACKSON
SCHWENKSVILLE, PA., U. S. A.

Mr. President and Fellow Alumni
Jefferson Medical College

6 June, 1953

When President Mullen informed me of the great honor of a token gavel to be conferred on Past Presidents, I was thrilled by the anticipation of greeting my fellow Alumni.

Unfortunately for me, a few days later there arose a circumstance that forecast the impossibility of my attendance in person.

This is one of the major disappointments of my lifetime.

However, one must be philosophic when a disappointment is encountered, even as great a one as this.

I appreciate this great honor to the utmost.

I should be an ingrate if I were to ignore the fact that all of my 29 Presidential Predecessors have passed away, whereas, at two years short of 90, I am alive to receive this great honor from the Alumni Association of the great Institution we are all proud to call our Alma Mater.

A "wee sma' voice" whispers to me that "the good die young;" but, nevertheless I hope that each and every one of you will also live to be two years short of 90 — and "then some."

Sincerely and ever gratefully yours,

Chevalier Jackson

CLINICS HELD DURING COMMENCEMENT WEEK

In connection with the Graduation Exercises, interesting talks were given in the Clinical Amphitheater of Jefferson Hospital.

As usual, the program was composed of three parts. On June 9, the Clinics were given by former Internes and Residents as part of Ex-Internes' and Ex-Residents' Day. On June 10, the program was comprised of members of the various class reunion groups, and on June 11, members of the major faculty held Clinics as part of the Alumni Day exercises.

The program was arranged with the idea of covering recent advances in the various fields of medical science.

A large and attentive audience was present on each of the three days. Doctors Abraham Cantarow, Willis E. Manges, John J. O'Keefe, and C. Wilmer Wirts served as Chairmen of the meetings.

The speakers are to be commended for an excellent program, and thanks are due to the members of the Clinic Committee for their assistance in arranging these meetings.

DR. JAMES C. McCONAUGHEY, '14, MADE PRESIDENT OF EX-INTERNES' AND EX-RESIDENTS' SOCIETY

At the last meeting of the Ex-Internes' and Ex-Residents' Society, in June, Dr. McConaughy was made President of the Association.

Dr. McConaughy joined the Philadelphia Electric Family in 1916 as a physician. He was appointed Assistant Medical Director in 1932, which position he held until his recent appointment as Medical Director, filling the vacancy caused by the retirement of Dr. William Hearn, '99.

Dr. McConaughy now assumes full supervision over the Medical Division which includes dispensaries in the Edison Building, Chester Office Building and Norristown Service Building.

He is a member of the Philadelphia County Medical Society, Delaware County Medical Society, Philadelphia Interstate Association of Industrial Medicine, Police Civil Service Havertown Township Examiners, Medical Adviser Haverford Township Commissioners. In his spare time he enjoys golfing and fishing.

JEFFERSON EX-INTERNES' AND EX-RESIDENTS' SOCIETY

Tuesday, June 9th, was Ex-Internes' and Ex-Residents' Day at Jefferson, and appeared to be a successful and enjoyable feature of Commencement week. The morning was devoted to an outstanding scientific program presented by members of the Society in the Clinical Amphitheatre. Those who presented papers this year included:

DR. CHESTER F. CULLEN, '48, Montreal, Province of Quebec, Canada, Circulatory Changes Associated With Alimentary Lipemia — Possible Relationship to Multiple Sclerosis and Other Diseases.

DR. J. ROBERT FOX, '43, Dover, Delaware, Ocular Motility.

DR. WILLIAM H. WHITELEY, 3RD, '43, Wynnewood, Pa., Brain Tumor Surgery — Today and Tomorrow.

DR. JOHN E. SCHWAB, '38, Veterans Administration Hospital, Richmond, Va., Unusual Causes of Cord Compression.

DR. GLENN A. H. DEIBERT, '33, Reading, Pa., Arthrodesis of the Knee Using Intramedullary Pin.

DR. EDGAR G. GIVHAN, '28, Birmingham, Alabama, Gout, a Forgotten Disease.

DR. AUGUSTUS F. HERFF, '23, San Antonio, Texas, Clinical Notes on Carcinoma of the Proximal Colon.

Following the scientific portion of the day, the attending members of the Society were guests of Jefferson Hospital at a buffet luncheon given in their honor. The annual business meeting followed the luncheon, highlighted by the Presidential report of DR. ABRAHAM CANTAROW '24 and the report of the Executive Committee given by DR. JOHN B. MONTGOMERY, '26. The chief topics of discussion were the successful dinner given by the Society in honor of the newly appointed Jefferson Internes in March of this year, and the function of the newly organized Internes' Advisory Committee of the Society.

The election of officers for the year 1953-54 resulted in the following:

President	JAMES C. McCONAUGHEY
President-Elect	BENJAMIN HASKELL
Ex-President	ABRAHAM CANTAROW
Secretary	J. WALLACE DAVIS
College Administration	R. BRUCE NYE
Hospital Administration	W. BOSLEY MANGES
Elder Statesman	GEORGE J. WILLAUER

Internes' Advisory Committee

WILLIAM T. LEMMON, M.D.

APPOINTED PROFESSOR OF SURGERY

On June 8, 1953, The Board of Trustees announced the appointment of William T. Lemmon, M.D., to be one of three Professors of Surgery at The Jefferson Medical College with a seat on the Executive Faculty.

He graduated from Jefferson in 1921, where he interned. He was appointed Assistant Demonstrator in Anatomy in 1925; Instructor of Anatomy, 1930; Assistant Demonstrator of Anatomy, 1932; Instructor in Surgery, 1936; Demonstrator of Surgery, 1937; Associate in Surgery, 1939; Assistant Professor of Surgery, 1941; Associate Professor of Surgery, 1946; Assistant Professor of Topographic and Applied Anatomy in 1947; Clinical Professor of Surgery in 1947.

In addition to his work in Surgery and in Anatomy, Dr. Lemmon has been especially noted for his important part in the development of continuous spinal anesthesia. Beginning his special work in the study of anesthesia in the mid-thirties, Dr. Lemmon reported a method for continuous spinal anesthesia in the Annals of Surgery in 1939, which has been accepted as a world-wide contribution by the surgical profession. Since then, Dr. Lemmon has been the author of more than forty medical articles on the subject, besides editing and writing numerous other works on surgery.

The new appointee is a native of Sumter, North Carolina, where his brother, Dr. C. J. Lemmon is in practice. Dr. Lemmon graduated from Clemson College before attending Jefferson. He is a diplomate of the American

Board of Surgery, a fellow of the American College of Surgeons, the Philadelphia Academy of Surgery, the College of Physicians of Philadelphia, is an examiner in surgery for the National Board of Medical Examiners and a member of the Philadelphia County and State Medical Societies.

Dr. and Mrs. Lemmon live at Tunbridge Road, Ardmore, Pa., and have five children.

NEW JERSEY HONORS

HENRY B. ORTON, M.D. '08

In recognition of his varied accomplishments as a surgeon, teacher and citizen, the New Jersey Academy of Medicine bestowed upon Dr. Orton its highest formal distinction — the Edward J. Lee Award established in 1939 to honor the medical and civic achievements of the late Dr. Edward J. Lee, first President of the Academy.

Dr. Orton, whose contributions to the field of cancer of the larynx have been nationally recognized was the thirteenth recipient of the award. Dr. Orton declared that "13" was his lucky number, recalling that when he went overseas during World War I the ocean trip took twenty-six days (twice 13). His ship traveled at 13 knots, 13 enemy torpedo boats were evaded and he was in Europe 13 months.

Dr. Orton said what he considered to be two major prerequisites for physicians: "High regard for the honor and duties of our profession, and steadfast devotion to detail"

Dr. Orton was graduated from Jefferson in 1908. He has received numerous awards and citations for his teaching contributions to head and neck surgery. He is president of the New Jersey Ophthalmological and Otolaryngological Society.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Every member of the Alumni Association can take deep inspiration and sincere pride in the Class of 1953. On the eve of its graduation this class joined the Association 100%, this complete participation being fairly unusual in the eighty-three year history of our alumni body.

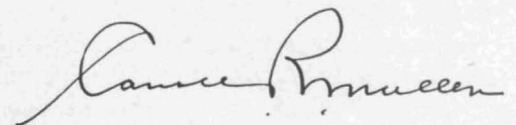

In evidence of their interest, they also contributed approximately $1,600 to be used in the production of a film library depicting activities and historical events of the College and affairs of the Alumni Association.

This is a magnificent beginning for a splendid class of 160 men. It is felt that their initial interest and participation in affairs of this Association will continue to make their influence apparent in alumni activities after graduation. These new members of the Association experienced and benefited from the accumulated generosity of thousands of other Jefferson graduates. They have witnessed and participated in fruits of improved preclinical teaching years which have materially progressed during the past many years of Alumni Giving. Members of the Class of 1953 in this unselfish manner have demonstrated to the rest of our alumni body that they fully approve and challenge the generous response of their older brothers.

The Annual Giving Fund of 1952-1953 has reached the magnificent sum of $110,010.92. This is indeed a splendid tribute to every member of our organization. It is a blazing banner of loyalty and love which our alumni can unfurl before all other similar organizations in the world. The officers and members of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association are most grateful to all who participated in reaching this splendid goal. We are particularly grateful to Class Agents whose untiring efforts on behalf of their Alma Mater has brought about renewed interest and friendships among their own classmates and rekindled fires of a deep love for Jefferson. Dr. Theodore R. Fetter, Chairman, and his Committee have worked ceaselessly in an effort to build this strong fund of confidence in our Institution. The Alumni Association is grateful to Mr. Paul F. Rake, Director of Development, and to Mrs. Melrose E. Weed, Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association, who have given so much of their time and effort in helping with this enterprise.

We now approach the Sixth Annual Giving Fund. The goal is a challenging one and all Graduates of Jefferson should be eager to contribute a small sum towards maintenance of our preclinical teaching years and College Building Fund. The Alumni Association is your strong representative in Philadelphia and will see that funds are allocated where they will do the most good for continued maintenance of medical education standards which all men of Old Jeff want and demand of their Alma Mater. Personally, I am most grateful to each and every one of my alumni friends who have participated in the very admirable and heartening drive which has so successfully been terminated.

CARROLL R. MULLEN, M.D.

A MESSAGE FROM DEAN GEORGE A. BENNETT

*To All Alumni:
Dear Friends:*

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to congratulate you upon the success of your Fifth Annual Giving Fund Drive. You have again made your goal; not one of us ever thought for a minute that you wouldn't. Jefferson Alumni always have the will to carry through whatever they undertake. Your fine accomplishments make us very proud of you.

Jefferson's future is assured so long as her loyal sons continue their support. We are most grateful to you and thank you, each and every one, for your prompt response to the needs of your Alma Mater.

Cordially yours,

George A. Bennett

Dean

REPORT OF THEODORE R. FETTER, M.D. ALUMNI FUND CHAIRMAN

Fellow Alumni:

I am very happy to report that the Fifth Annual Roll Call has exceeded its goal; in other words, we have surpassed the $110,000, the amount set by your Fund Committee. I am furthermore sorry that we were unable to state on the night of the Annual Dinner that we had attained our amount. This was not the fault of our book-keeper but due to the rush of events. Many contributions were late in reaching the accounting office and it was not until several days later we realized that success in reaching our goal had been secured. Experience has taught us that in the week of graduation, with the return of many alumni, that enthusiasm of the graduates really generates a continuing loyalty to the college. The alumni see and hear what is transpiring at their school, and their desire to participate in its growth pervades the scene. Indeed, it is this spirit which leads to success in any school, but only Jefferson men know the binding strength of their college.

On behalf of the Alumni Annual Giving Fund Committee and Jefferson, I express our profound appreciation to the alumni who contributed to the Fifth Roll Call. The generosity, loyalty and understanding of the alumni body as a whole is a remarkable demonstration of your regard for our Alma Mater.

Success is a gratifying experience to everyone — and this year we may all take satisfaction in exceeding the goal set at the outset of the campaign last fall. The total contributed is $110,010.92 on the goal of $110,000. The number of contributors, 3,055, was slightly short of our objective of 3,200 donors but was a gain over last year of over 300. Participating were 51.3% of the alumni.

The Alumni Fund has been brought back to former levels, being matched by one previous year and exceeded by the 125th Anniversary year. In the face of the substantial giving by staff, faculty and other alumni to the New Hospital Building project, we feel that a splendid result has been achieved.

Certainly the Fifth Roll Call primarily owes its success to the hard work, persuasion, and personal generosity of the Class Agents and their Associates. These men are deserving of the highest praise and thanks of their classmates.

Our contributors include men from classes as early as 1878 and a very heartening number of our youngest graduates. The class totals show that the bulk of our money came, as it rightly should, from those men in active practice; but we are particularly pleased at the healthy response from the men already retired and from those as yet receiving only an interne's or resident's salary.

The unrestricted funds from this year will again be used for the support of preclinical teaching salaries in the College — none of the funds going to the hospital or clinical departments of the college. The gifts applied against "note payments" in classes from '31 through '48 are allocated as shown later in this report to (1) College Building Fund (2) Endowed Teaching Fund (3) Discretionary Fund.

Some of our members have not contributed directly through their classes but have made gifts to the American Medical Education Fund, earmarked for Jefferson. These gifts eventually reach the Dean's Office and are available for any use by the College. Since June 1, 1952, the College has been advised of 130 A. M. E. F. gifts totalling $3,705 designated for Jefferson by alumni. These donors are listed in a supplementary section of this Annual Report. We have been advising the A. M. E. F. of all gifts made directly to Annual Giving at Jefferson so they might be credited in state and local societies.

Space will only allow limited comment on the fine work accomplished in individual classes. The competition for First in Amount was keen with the classes of 1908, 1928 and 1926 finishing in that order but with only small margins separating them from 1916 and 1935. For First in Number, the Class of 1950 set an outstanding new record of 112 gifts, followed by 1951 with 98, and 1945 with 92 donors. For those classes with more than ten living members, the Class of 1894 led again with 83.3% participation. The three leading classes are recorded on a plaque in the College.

We know the Alumni Annual Giving Fund has helped immeasurably in the strengthening and progress of Jefferson Medical College. It has also set an outstanding example to other groups who are rendering other support to the college and its hospital. We must look toward further developing the Annual Giving Fund for the future — to always lead in the advancement of our Alma Mater.

HONOR ROLL OF DONORS

The names of loyal alumni, faculty members and friends who have responded directly to the Fifth Roll Call are here listed in grateful appreciation. Their generous support has assured the continued success of the Alumni Annual Giving Fund and has immeasurably aided their Alma Mater in maintaining its leading position and prestige in medical education.

The Committee had intended to give special recognition here to those who contributed in $100 and over and $500 and over amounts, and to these donors a special acknowledgment was sent. However, the Committee has come to the conclusion that it should continue for the present the same format of the Honor Roll of Donors as used in previous years. It is not the Committee's intent to overemphasize larger gifts but rather the fact of participation. It has been interesting to note that there has been a significant gain this year in the number of larger gifts as compared with prior years, as shown on the preceding page. Our ultimate goal, however, should be to increase substantially the number of contributors to perhaps two-thirds of the alumni body, as has been accomplished in a few colleges of other types.

THE AMERICAN MEDICAL EDUCATION FUND

THEODORE R. FETTER, M.D.

There is a common purpose, the financial support of medical education, which has brought a finer cooperation between the fund-raising efforts of the various medical college Alumni Funds and the American Medical Education Fund. Alumni Annual Giving is today one of the strongest supports for higher education, providing over $19,000,000 for this purpose last year. At Jefferson the Annual Giving Fund has been vital to recent progress.

During the growth of the A. M. E. F. in the past three years, it was but natural that some competition for physicians' gifts might develop between the A. M. E. F. and medical college Alumni Funds, including Jefferson. Many alumni who sincerely wanted to help medical education were presented with the choice of contributing to A. M. E. F. or directly to their Alma Mater, Jefferson. Some did both.

This situation seems to have been clarified to some degree by the adopting of new policies last year by the A. M. E. F. The A. M. E. F. has said it does not wish to impair the successful Alumni Funds of the medical colleges. The A. M. E. F. will now accept in your local medical society credit for your gift made directly to our Alumni Fund. Pennsylvania and some other states provide forms for this purpose. We send a list of all direct alumni contributors to A. M. E. F. in Chicago.

This national fund, sponsored by the A. M. A. and the National Fund for Medical Education, is also securing funds from non-physician sources, an appreciable contribution to medical schools. From the gifts made by corporations, drug firms, state medical societies, etc., the A. M. E. F. has allocated during the past year $15,000 to Jefferson according to a formula. In addition, from June, 1952, through May, 1953, 130 of our alumni have contributed $3,705 through A. M. E. F. for Jefferson, which has received the credit. This list of contributors follows at the end of this article.

Although these funds redound to the benefit of the College and are appreciated, they are not included in the totals of our Alumni Annual Giving Fund, which must give a ledger accounting, by class, of its cash receipts. Our Alumni Fund total is reported to the Trustees as the amount contributed through this program of our Alumni Association.

We hope alumni will continue to make gifts directly to Jefferson and at the same time receive credit for such with the A. M. E. F.

The Dean's Office has been advised by the A. M. E. F. of the following donors who have earmarked their gifts for Jefferson:

GOODIN, '43; JOHN DONAHUE, '10; ALEXANDER SHOUN, '32;
PHILIP DERICKSON, '43.

CHAPTER NOTES

ARIZONA CHAPTER

On Monday, April 27, 1953, the Arizona Chapter of the Alumni Association held its annual luncheon. The following Alumni were present: Carl McKee '06, Blair Saylor '40, Phil Derickson '43, Don Schell '30, Alec Shoun '32, Bill Goodin '43, Clark Leydic '41, John Donahue '10 and T. E. A. Von Dedenroth '49.

The luncheon was informal, nutritious, and an enjoyable one. The day was made much more pleasant by the mutually profitable exchange of ideas, and will long stand forth as a memorable occasion in the minds of all who were present. All are looking forward to the next one.

SOUTHWESTERN CHAPTER OF PENNSYLVANIA

A meeting of the Southwestern Chapter of Pennsylvania was held in Beaver Falls at the Broadhead Hotel, on May 7, 1953. Doctors James R. Martin '10, James M. Surver '29, and Herbert A. Luscombe '40, attended this meeting, representing the Alumni and the College. They were met at the Pittsburgh Station by Dr. Lester L. Bartlett '29 and Dr. William Shapera '21. The dinner-meeting was an enjoyable one. Talks were given by the three guests and also by the president-elect of the Pennsylvania State Medical Society, Dr. Bartlett, and by Dr. Shapera. There were about forty-five present.

MALORY A. PITTMAN, M.D., '21

NORTH CAROLINA MEETING

The Annual Jefferson Alumni Luncheon was held in the Crystal Room of the Carolina Hotel, Pinehurst, North Carolina, May 13, 1953. It was one of the best attended and most enthusiastic meetings held by this group in recent years.

Dr. M. A. Pittman, '21, President, and Dr. W. Howard Wilson, '37, Secretary-Treasurer, combined to bring a large contingent from "the Campus". These included Dr. Bruce Nye '27, representing the Dean's Office, who spoke interestingly of happenings of the school and the progress of its physical expansion. Dr. John E. Deitrick and Dr. William T. Lemmon '21 were both warmly received and spoke on various matters of interest concerning their respective departments.

Dr. Carroll R. Mullen, President of the Alumni Association, was also in attendance and brought word to the 315 Jefferson Alumni in North Carolina of the activities of the various Alumni Chapters throughout the country.

One of the highlights of the Scientific Exhibits was one presented by Dr. Sherman A. Eger '29, "Preferred Management of Breast Lesions", which had been prepared by Doctors Thomas A. Shallow '11, Sherman A. Eger '29, and Frederick Wagner '41. One of the highlights of the Scientific Program was the paper entitled "The Clinical and Physiological Aspects of Emphysema, Diagnosis and Treatment", by Dr. Burgess Gordon '19.

Jefferson men were in evidence throughout the course of the Meeting. Dr. James S. Brewer '19, was President of the State Medical Society of North Carolina for 1952-53. Dr. George W. Paschal, Jr., '31, was First Vice President. Dr. Howard H. Bradshaw '27 and Dr. Robert P. Morehead '36 were elected President and Secretary-Treasurer respectively of the North Carolina Chapter of the Jefferson Alumni for the coming year.

Ladies were in attendance at this Meeting and our Chapter has decided to have them come each year hence.

GREATER NEW YORK CHAPTER MEETING

The Jefferson Medical College Alumni Association of Greater New York held its Annual Dinner at the Commissioned Officers' Mess, U. S. Naval Shipyard, Brooklyn, New York, on Thursday, May 21, 1953. A large number of alumni assembled in the cabin for cocktails at 6:30 P.M. followed by dinner at 7:30 P.M.

The Jefferson Faculty was represented by four members: Dr. George A. Bennett, Dean; Dr. Carroll R. Mullen, President of the Alumni Association; Dr. Benjamin F. Haskell '23, Clinical Professor of Proctology; Dr. Paul A. Bowers '37, Associate in Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Each member of the Faculty presented an interesting account of his work in its relation to the general progress of Jefferson, its great physical expansion, and its numerous contributions to the Medical Sciences.

The following men were elected officers of the society for the succeeding year: Dr. Thomas F. Duhigg '02, President; Dr. John J. Webster '35, Secretary; Dr. Adolph J. Musante '23, Treasurer.

THOMAS F. DUHIGG, M.D. '02

HARRISBURG CHAPTER

The newly constituted Harrisburg Chapter of the Jefferson Alumni Association held a meeting June 30, 1953. After a reception and dinner at the Academy of Medicine the organization meeting got under way. Dr. Norman B. Shepler '10, of Harrisburg was elected President. Dr. Shepler has been instrumental in keeping an organization of Jefferson Alumni active in Harrisburg up to 1940, the last year when a meeting of the group was held. Dr. Roy W. Gifford '27, of Gettysburg was elected Vice-President, Dr. Raymond C. Grandon '45, of Harrisburg was elected Secretary-Treasurer. A Committee was appointed to draw up by-laws for the organization. It was decided that at least one meeting a year would be held.

Dr. Raymond C. Grandon is responsible for organizing the meeting and for bringing the men together and supplying the refreshments. Following the meeting, Dr. Leandro M. Tocantins '26, Professor of Clinical and Experimental Medicine, gave a talk to the members of the chapter dealing principally with the recent changes in the curriculum at Jefferson. About thirty-five alumni attended.

SEATTLE CHAPTER

A luncheon meeting of several of the Jefferson Alumni was held when Dr. Carroll R. Mullen was visiting in Seattle, Washington. Present with Dr. Mullen were Dr. Joseph C. Brugman '10, Dr. H. T. Buckner '13, Dr. Daniel H. Coleman '45, Dr. Thomas E. Douglas, Jr., '48, Dr. Edward M. McAninch '52, Dr. David Metheny '23, Dr. Kenneth G. Whyte '23, and Dr. Bliss L. Finlayson '33. The following two names were added to the list of men in this area.

Dr. John J. Owen '43, 1110 Harvard Avenue, Seattle, and Dr. Raymond Hain '45, Department of Pathology, University of Washington School of Medicine.

It was indeed nice to have one of the Jefferson men drop in. The visit was enjoyed tremendously. During the meeting, plans were tentatively arranged for another meeting of the group to be held in the near future.

OUR PRESIDENT ON EXTENSIVE TRIP

Our President, Carroll R. Mullen, and his family have been taking an extensive trip through the West. He has met many Jefferson Alumni and will bring back greetings and suggestions.

Dr. Mullen sailed for Hawaii July 13. After a visit there, he will return to San Francisco and will arrive in Philadelphia about August 15. He will have much of interest to tell us and we are awaiting his return with pleasant anticipation.

JEFFERSON GRADUATE ASSEMBLY

Plans have been drawn up for a three day program for the next Jefferson Graduate Assembly which will be held in the College, February 3-4-5, 1954. The Committee has made every effort to comply with the suggestions of the previous attendants who indicated that they were primarily interested in subjects dealing with office procedure.

CHALLENGES FACING THE MEDICAL PROFESSION TODAY

The following are excerpts from the address made by J. Street Brewer, M.D., '19, President of The Medical Society of the State of North Carolina, during its annual meeting in Pinehurst, May 12, 1953.

"For more than a century the world has been in the throes of a great social revolution, which had its beginning in the movement for public education. In the wake of this movement followed the great convulsion of civil war that destroyed human slavery in this country forever. The labor movement which began in the latter part of the nineteenth century was a natural sequence of the freeing of men's bodies from slavery and their minds from ignorance. As man became free and acquired an education, he came to appreciate and desire the good things of life, and therefore sought relief from economic bondage. The tragedy of that era in American history lies in the fact that the industrial and political leaders of the day could not understand that they were living in changing times."

"The present demand of the people for better housing, for better protection against illness, for better and cheaper medical and hospital care is but an extension of the social revolution that began more than a century ago. When these demands of the people begin to affect you and me, we are prone to label them as socialistic and to resist them on principle. But we can no more stop this social reform in the field of health than the industrial barons could stop the labor movement. If we physicians are smart, if we will exercise the intelligence which should be ours as professional men and not dwell too long on our traditions and our prejudices, we can guide and direct this great social movement in the way it should develop. But we cannot exercise leadership just by shouting "Socialism!" and fighting back."

"Our past achievements, however, should not lull us into complacency, but rather challenge us to attack the problems which still confront us. As chief among the challenges facing us in the immediate future I would name the following: (1) to continue to foster a spirit of cooperation with our health and welfare agencies; (2) to seek some solution for the shortage of doctors; (3) to promote the spread of voluntary prepayment health insurance; (4) to concern ourselves about the chronic degenerative diseases and the care of an aging population."

"What can a community do about the control of cancer, heart disease, or diabetes? Interested agencies can conduct campaigns to raise money and distribute literature, but unless the individual case is found and brought to treatment the job is not half done. Hence you may expect public health agencies to broaden their scope of activity to include such chronic diseases, in an attempt to spread knowledge about them and to help find the cases. As long as health organizations devote themselves to education and case-finding and stay away from treatment, it should be possible for the attack on chronic disease to be made by public health agencies and doctors working in a spirit of cooperation and understanding."

"To meet the needs of the people for medical care we must have a better distribution of doctors between the specialties and general practice, and between urban and rural areas. As electrification, telephones, and paved roads are making rural living more inviting, so must people who live in rural areas cooperate to make the practice of medicine in these areas more inviting and more satisfying. That is a community responsibility; and until rural people understand that they must support their local physicians and cooperate with them, there will be a shortage of country doctors, whether we graduate 6,000 or 12,000 medical students a year."

"The tendency in many rural communities to make use of the local physician only in foul weather and for emergencies, and to go to the 'city doctor' for other services is discouraging young physicians from locating in rural areas, and in many cases is driving away physicians already in such areas. Several communities in this and other states have demonstrated that by cooperation in the provisions of clinic space and equipment, and in the support of their local physicians, they can attract and hold good doctors."

"The burden of caring for the health needs of the people rests squarely on the medical profession. We cannot discharge that obligation by a system of specialized medical practice in which only a few doctors can be found who are able and willing to assume responsibility for the everyday and every-night problems which constitute 80 percent or more of medical practice."

"There is a great need for specialists in all the branches of medicine and surgery, and these men have contributed much to the advancement of scientific knowledge and skill. They cannot, however, fill the place of the family doctor — and I am sure that they have no desire to do so."

"To be sure, the threat of compulsory health insurance seems dissipated for the present; but let no one be lulled into complacency. The issue is not dead, only sleeping, and may arise at any time conditions seem favorable. Our best and only opportunity to destroy this thing once and for all lies in the development of a comprehensive and not too expensive system of prepaid voluntary insurance against the costs of hospital and medical care."

"As the health needs of the people are met and infectious disease is conquered, more and more people live to reach the age during which chronic disease takes its toll. It is said that we now have four times as many people over 65 in the population as we had in 1900. This great group of middle-aged and elderly people vastly increases the problem of chronic degenerative disease and also the problem involved in the care of the aged and senescent."

"The family physician finds opportunity for his finest service to some of these old people. He must be not only physician, but friend and counselor. He can encourage the old man to tend a little plot of ground, either a flower or a vegetable garden, for the good of his health, and the aging woman to engage in knitting or quilting or tending a few chickens. This is real occupational therapy. The challenge to physicians who have elderly patients is to keep them active and happy, and to keep alive the will to live."

"In conclusion, by bringing our thinking along social lines up to date, we as physicians will not compromise our principles, but will be fighting for the freedom of medicine and of the individual. That which is sound we will embrace, but that which is unsound we will oppose."

DR. CHRISTIAN W. NISSLER

Dr. Christian W. Nissler, of the Class of 1919, died suddenly at his home in Lansdowne, Pennsylvania, on May 31, 1953, at the age of 64. Death was due to coronary heart disease.

Dr. Nissler, a native of Butte, Montana, attended the School of Agriculture at the University of Wisconsin. During this period he became interested in the cultivation of plants and flowers, a hobby which he pursued throughout his life. Later he decided to study medicine and entered Jefferson.

He interned at Jefferson Hospital from 1919 to 1921. From 1922 to 1944 he was Instructor in Medicine, assigned to the Department for Diseases of the Chest at 238 Pine Street. For a considerable portion of this time he also acted as Instructor in the Clinical Laboratory. He resigned from the Staff to assume the duties of Medical Director of the White Haven Sanatorium, at White Haven, Pennsylvania, where he remained for about two and a half years, leaving that Institution to resume private practice. At the time of his death he was serving as a physician in the Chest Department of the Philadelphia Office of the Veterans Administration.

Dr. Nissler is survived by his wife, the former Ann Fitzgerald, a graduate of the Nurses Training School of the Jefferson Hospital, and by two children, Mrs. Elizabeth Black, also a graduate of the Jefferson Nursing School, and C. W. Nissler, Jr.

DR. EDWIN E. GRAHAM

Dr. Edwin E. Graham, Emeritus Professor of Pediatrics of the Jefferson Medical College, died June 10, 1953, while visiting a daughter, Mrs. Edwin A. Bacon, in Madison, Virginia.

Dr. Graham, who practiced medicine for more than fifty years, made his home with his daughter Mrs. Gertrude Robb of Gladwyne, Pa. A native of the city he attended Episcopal Academy and Phillips Exeter Academy prior to enrolling at Harvard University, where he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts. In 1887, Dr. Graham received his degree from Jefferson. In 1904 he was made Professor of Diseases of Children and Head of the Department of Pediatrics, and a consultant to the Vineland Training School and Vineland Hospital. He also served as attending pediatricist at the Philadelphia General Hospital. He published many articles on the subject of pediatrics as well as a textbook on the subject. He contributed to Hare's "System of Practical Therapeutics" and Wilson's "American Textbook of Applied Therapeutics."

He was a Past President of the Philadelphia Pediatrics Society and the American Pediatrics Society. He became Emeritus Professor at Jefferson in 1926. In 1950 he was given an honorary degree of Doctor of Science from his Alma Mater.

HERBERT W. WIDING, M.D., '27

Dr. Herbert W. Widing, Philadelphia, Pa., member of the Surgical Department for twenty-three years died at his home, 1014 South Fifty-first Street, June 30, 1953.

He attended Gettysburg College and was graduated from the Jefferson Medical College in 1927 where he interned. He started general practice in 1930 and for the past ten years specialized in the Practice of Surgery. He was on the staffs of Jefferson and Presbyterian Hospitals.

Dr. Widing was an Elder of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Fiftieth and Baltimore Avenues. He was a member of the Alpha Kappa Kappa Medical Fraternity.

He is survived by his wife, the former Isabelle Oaks; two daughters, S. Brooke and Deborah L.; three brothers, Philip C., Joseph W., and Theodore.

JEFFERSON ALUMNI IN THE UNITED STATES SERVICES

OID F. POMERLEAU, M.D., '34

On June 1, 1953 former Captain Ovid F. Pomerleau was awarded the Soldier's Medal for Heroism displayed during the Mediterranean Theater of Operation.

The medal was presented by Lt. General Withers A. Burrell, First Army Commander on Governors Island, New York.

The citation accompanying the Soldier's Medal, reads:

"For heroism near Cuma, Italy, on August 20, 1944. While bathing at the beach near Cuma, Italy, Captain Pomerleau observed a swimmer some distance from the shore struggling against a strong undertow in water well over his head shouting for help. Captain Pomerleau with full knowledge of the strong undertow, and with complete disregard for his own safety, unhesitatingly swam to the aid of the distressed man and in spite of rough and dangerous water, brought him safely to shore. His courage and complete disregard for the danger involved reflect the highest credit upon himself and the military service."

The delay in the award of the Soldier's Medal to Dr. Pomerleau occurred when the General Orders reached Naples after he had departed and was separated from service, during the demobilization of troops in the Mediterranean area, following V-E Day in 1945. Upon a routine search by the Army regarding unclaimed medals, it was revealed that the Soldier's Medal had not yet been received by Dr. Pomerleau, and he was so notified.

The Soldier's Medal was created in 1926 to recognize heroism not involving conflict with an armed enemy. The deed must have involved personal danger and voluntary risk of life under noncombat conditions. Its ribbon has two outside stripes of blue and a center with thirteen white and red stripes.

Entering the Army Medical Corps on November 3, 1942, from Waterville, Maine, Dr. Pomerleau's Army life began with one month's service at Camp Pickett, Virginia. His next assignment was that of Medical Officer with the 319th Infantry Regiment, 80th Infantry Division, with service from December 1942 through September 1943, during which time he attended Carlisle Medical Service School at Carlisle, Pa., graduating with the 25th class.

In September 1943, he was detached from the 80th Infantry Division and ordered to report for overseas duty to Norfolk, Virginia, arriving by ship at Casablanca, North Africa. He then proceeded to Oran, North Africa, traveling with the World War I-famed "40-8" French trains. The last lap of his journey was via C-47 plane through Algiers to Naples, Italy, where he reported for duty as Medical Officer of the 29th Replacement Battalion, Fifth Army. He participated in both the Naples-Foggia and Rome-Arno campaigns of the World War II Mediterranean Theater of Operations. He left Naples on November 20, 1945 and was separated from the Army at Fort Devens, Massachusetts, on December 5, 1945.

A human-interest note recalled by Dr. Pomerleau, was his surprise at meeting a Waterville, Maine, home town acquaintance, as well as 44 other home town servicemen, encountered during his two years of overseas duty.

Dr. Pomerleau was graduated from the Winslow, Maine, High School in 1926. In 1930, he received the Bachelor of Science Degree from Colby College in Waterville, Maine. He was graduated with the Degree of Doctor of Medicine in 1934 from the Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1935, he interned at the St. Joseph Hospital, Philadelphia, and was attached to the Surgical Staff of the Sisters' Hospital, Waterville, Maine, before the war, to which hospital he has since returned. His wife, Mrs. Ovid F. Pomerleau, and their 12 year old son, Ovid F. Pomerleau, Jr., will also attend the Governors Island Award Ceremony on June first.

VINCENT J. McPEAK, '51

First Lt. Vincent J. McPeak, whose wife, Cecelia, lives at 562 Linden Street, Bristol, Pa., is a recent graduate of the Army's newly-established Medical Field Service School in the Korean Combat zone.

The school was created to supplement the normal eight week medical officer training course, heretofore at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, by giving the doctors actual field experience in addition to a shortened four week course at Fort Sam Houston.

Following the combat-zone school, the doctors were all assigned to units within Eighth Army.

Lieutenant McPeak was resident physician at the Jefferson Medical Hospital before entering the Army in January 1953. He attended Villanova College and later graduated from Jefferson Medical College '51, in Philadelphia.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent McPeak, live at 302 Winona Avenue, Philadelphia.

MARVIN C. RHODE, '47

Army 1st Lt. Marvin C. Rhode, whose wife, Grace, lives at 5822 Baltimore Avenue, Philadelphia, was recently awarded the Combat Medical Badge while serving in Korea with the 2nd Infantry Division.

The badge, a symbol of the frontline combat medical aidman, is silver in color and consists of a miniature cross on a Medical Corps emblem superimposed over a wreath.

Lieutenant Rhode, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rhode, 246 West Upsal Street, Philadelphia, Pa., joined the 2nd last March as battalion surgeon with the 9th Infantry Regiment's Medical Company.

A graduate of Ohio University and Jefferson Medical College, class of 1947, he was a surgeon on the Staff in the Department of General Surgery, U. S. Veterans Administration Hospital, Iowa City, Iowa, before re-entering the Army.

During a previous tour of Army duty, he was awarded the American Theater Campaign Ribbon, World War II Victory Medal and the Good Conduct Medal.

GEORGE F. TIBBENS, '47

George F. Tibbens, a 1947 Alumnus of Jefferson Medical College, has been promoted to captain in the U. S. Air Force at his station with the Thirteenth Air Force in the Philippines.

The new railroad track insignia holder received advancement in grade while assigned medical officer duties at the U. S. Air Force Hospital on Clark Air Force Base, north of Manila.

Captain Tibbens first joined the military service in September of 1942. He re-entered the service at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, in September of 1951 and, prior to his assignment in the Philippines last October, saw a year's tour of duty in Japan.

The captain hails from Washington, Pa., where his parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Tibbens, presently live. He is married to the former Nancy Kostenbender, of Hazleton, Pa. They have a four month old daughter, Pamela Ann.

ARTHUR C. RICHARDS, JR., '43

It is with deep sorrow that we announce the death of Arthur C. Richards, Jr., '43, Captain MCUSA, 203 S. Bannockburn Avenue, Ambler, Pa., as a result of severe injuries suffered in a crash in Korea, May 14, 1953.

Attached to a South Korean Infantry Division with Korean Military Adviser Group, 6th ROK Division, Captain Richards was making an inspection tour of frontline medical facilities when the helicopter in which he was riding crashed.

Captain Richards had been in Korea since January 1953.

Following his graduation from Germantown Academy in 1932, Dr. Richards attended Gettysburg College, where he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega; he obtained his degree there in 1939. He received his medical education at Jefferson Medical College and was awarded the M.D. degree in 1943. Dr. Richards then interned at The Williamsport City Hospital and subsequently practiced medicine in Littlestown, Pa. After several years of successful practice, he decided to specialize in obstetrics, and in the fall of 1950 he entered the Graduate School of Medicine at the University of Pa. At the time he was called into the Army, he was serving a residency in obstetrics at the Pennsylvania (Lying-In) Hospital.

While in private practice, Captain Richards was president of the Adams County Medical Society.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Richards; his wife, Bessie Irene Deiffenderfer; a daughter, Christine Dale, seven months; and a sister, Mrs. Robert L. Dickinson.

COLONEL MILLS, President, with other officers, members of his class and their wives, and DR. MILLS' daughter, for their 60th Reunion at Princeton

Colonel Frederick Mills Returns to Princeton for 60th Reunion

Colonel Mills returned to Princeton to celebrate his 60th Anniversary of his graduation. Although the Famous Parade was canceled on account of the deluge of rain, sixteen members of his class, 53.3% of thirty surviving members enjoyed a wonderful Reunion at Nassau Tavern. President Dodds joined them for dinner. All the present officers were "given life sentences" and it was voted to continue to meet in June each year. Colonel Mills is president of the class and was made a Life Member of the Graduate Council. Congratulations, Colonel Mills! May you enjoy many more Reunions both at Princeton and Jefferson.

JEFFERSON ALUMNUS CELEBRATES 70th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Dr. and Mrs. Irvin A. Fries of Providence Road, Wallingford, Pa., celebrated their 70th Wedding Anniversary, August 2, 1953.

Dr. Fries is a native of Bernville in Berks County and Mrs. Fries, the former Jenny Whiteside, is a Philadelphian.

Dr. Fries observed his ninety-second birthday, May 4, 1953. He is in his sixty-second year of practice. As a general practitioner, he estimates that he has delivered more than two thousand babies since starting his practice in 1891, the year he graduated from The Jefferson Medical College. Our congratulations to a fine couple — may they enjoy many more years of happiness.

DOCTORS' ART EXHIBIT AT THE STATE MUSEUM

John C. Sherger, M.D., '35, 2023 N. Second Street, Harrisburg, Pa., for his painting of the Taj Mahal received the largest number of votes in the popular painting poll conducted for three weeks in April in connection with the Pennsylvania Doctors' Art Exhibit in the State Museum. The Taj Mahal, marble mausoleum built more than three hundred years ago at Agra, India, by the Mogul Emperor Shah Jahan in memory of his favorite wife, proved the favorite as a painting by doctors from among several hundred votes cast by the public.

A native of Harrisburg, Dr. Sherger was graduated from the former Technical High School in 1925, attended Mercersburg Academy in 1926 and 1927, was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College in 1931, and received his medical degree from Jefferson Medical College in 1935. His father, Dr. John A. Sherger, also a practicing physician at the North Second Street address was graduated from Jefferson in 1903.

Several other alumni were represented in the exhibition. They are as follows:

Albert H. Bucher, M.D., '21, 936 N. Second Street, Harrisburg, Pa., received the fourth highest vote for his painting, "Medieval Reflections" and seventh highest vote for his canvas "Alpine Springtime".

Morris J. Gerber, M.D., '32, 719 N. Second Street, Harrisburg, Pa., received the fifth highest vote for his "Self Portrait".

Morris A. Weinstein, M.D., '06, Graduate Hospital, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, Philadelphia, exhibited "Still Life" which was eighth in the popular choice.

Nathan Sussman, M.D., '35, 805 N. Second Street, Harrisburg, Pa., received the ninth highest vote for his sea-scene "Tranquility".

The above picture shows DR. NED RAKER '35, his son, and DR. RODRIGO FRANCO '26, Professor of Obstetrics at Sanmarcus University, preparing to celebrate the occasion of DR. RAKER's appointment as Director of the Anglo-American Clinic. He has also obtained a Peruvian License to practice which entailed taking twenty-eight examinations, including the Basic Sciences and Spanish. DR. FRANCO is looking forward to attending his thirtieth reunion in June 1956.

CLASS NOTES

- 1878 EDMUND B. MONTGOMERY, Quincy, Illinois, writes:

"I reached home last night after a very pleasant visit with my namesake and nephew at Collingwood on the Potomac not far from Alexandria.

I am writing you now to express my sincerest thanks for all you did for me both at the Alumni Dinner and at the Commencement exercises at the Academy of Music.

I thoroughly enjoyed every minute of my stay in Philadelphia and more than glad to tell you how much you contributed to it."

- 1880 ANDREW J. COLEY, M.D., Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, writes:

"It gave me so much pleasure to receive, on my birthday, your letter of Congratulations and good wishes. I appreciate the kind thoughtfulness more than I can tell you.

It is surely a wonderful custom the Association has established, that of remembering on our birthdays those of us who have passed the age of activity and are living to a great extent in the past. How I wish it were possible for me to drop in for at least one more visit to the "Old School" — Maybe I will, one just can't tell.

I am getting along fine for one ninety-five years old and feel that I am good for several more years. Thank you again!"

- 1882 JOHN F. MENTZER, M.D., 16 North State Street, Ephrata, Pa., sends us a note —

"Thank you so much for your thought and for the joy your flowers brought me."

- 1889 CHARLES C. BULLOCK, M.D., R.D. 3, West Chester, Pa. — Mrs. Norman N. Chambers writes:

"I would like to thank you and the Alumni Association of Jefferson Medical College for the lovely flowers you sent to my uncle, Dr. Charles C. Bullock, for his ninety-first birthday. He appreciated very much your remembering him, and often talks of his days at "Jefferson".

His birthday is April 23. He is in fairly good health for his 91 years. He retired from practice two years ago."

- 1890 LUDWIG LOEB, M.D., 250 South 17th Street, Phila., Pa., writes:

"Thank you and the members of the Jefferson Medical College Alumni Association for your congratulations and good wishes on my eighty-seventh birthday. Unfortunately bad health and advanced age prevent me from participating in the constructive affairs and the work of the Jefferson Medical College."

ORAN A. WOOD, M.D., 128 West Broad Street, Paulsboro, New Jersey, writes:

"Again I have the pleasure to write and express my deep appreciation for your congratulatory letter and the fine floral remembrance which you sent me on my birthday. I greatly appreciate being so remembered and in such a nice way. It gives me a great deal of pride and pleasure showing them to all my friends.

Again — thank you."

- 1891 DR. BARTON L. BROWN's daughter writes:

"I want to thank you immensely for the beautiful flowers you so kindly sent my father on his eighty-eighth birthday last Saturday. The whole family enjoyed them."

EDWARD W. FORD, M.D., Crescent City, Florida, writes:

"I appreciate your recognition of my eighty-six years. Am always interested in the progress of Jefferson. The flowers were a nice token — thank you again."

IRWIN A. FRIES, M.D., Wallingford, Pa. His daughter writes:

"Thank you so much for the beautiful carnations you sent my father on his ninetieth birthday. I could never express to you the appreciation and gratitude my father showed when he received your memorable gift on such a momentous occasion. To say that he was overwhelmed cannot fully express his feelings. Your letter was another highlight on what he says was his happiest birthday. It is being shown to all his friends with great pride and is considered a document of great importance.

My father has asked me to express to you his warmest thanks and his deepest appreciation."

- 1892 JOSEPH H. CLOUD, M.D., 111 St. Pauls Road, Ardmore, Pa., writes:

"Thank you and the members of the Jefferson Alumni Association, for your kind letter received on May 1 my eighty-first birthday. With all good wishes."

- 1893 AMOS W. BOTKIN, M.D., 323 Apperson Street, Oregon City, Oregon, writes:

"I wish to express to you my surprise and delight upon receiving the floral token on the occasion of my eight-seventh birthday, June 24. It was indeed a pleasure: one long to be remembered.

Will you please convey my appreciation to the other members of the Alumni body."

EDWARD I. RICH, M.D., 2624 Taylor Avenue, Ogden, Utah, writes:

"Your dear letter of congratulations and a most gorgeous and beautiful bouquet arrived on my eighty-fifth birthday and on our fifty-ninth wedding anniversary. Please accept my thanks and appreciation and extend my appreciation to the Alumni Association. God bless Old Jefferson and all her children."

CHARLES WYETH, M.D., 1100 South Seventh Street, Terre Haute, Indiana, writes:

"Thank you very much for my birthday congratulatory letter. Thanks for the beautiful flowers. It's very nice to be remembered, I appreciate that very much. I am nicely situated in my own home. Born and raised in Terre Haute, the people of Terre Haute have been very kind to me.

"Travel has been my hobby — have had two wonderful world cruises and marvelous Mediterranean Cruise — many trips to Europe — have seen Mount Everest at sunrise. I am proud of Jefferson Medical College and The Alumni Association."

- 1894 WILLIAM A. MARSH, M.D., 729 West Main Street, Mount Pleasant, Pa., writes:

"Pardon my delay in answering your nice letter. My arthritis is still crippling me a lot and interferes with my writing. Cortisone has been disappointing."

JOHN S. MCCELVEY, M.D., King's Daughters Clinic, Temple, Texas, writes:

"Your congratulations on my eighty-third birthday arrived precisely on time and was highly appreciated. It certainly was thoughtful of you to remember one so far back; it makes an old man feel that he is not forgotten."

The world has been good to me in many ways, probably better than I deserve. I am still active and in good health but have lessened my work and responsibilities and am trying to live a happy and peaceful life in my old age.

If you are ever in this part of the country, be sure and look me up. I will be glad to entertain you. With kindest regards and best wishes."

- 1896 GUY OTIS BREWSTER, M.D., North Broadway, Florida City, Florida, writes:

"Thank you many times for remembering me. Jefferson Medical College memories are the happiest of my life. I won a competitive internship at the Kings County Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y., in February of my senior year, 1896, and received the privilege and honor from Dean Holland of a private examination in the individual offices of each member of the faculty. I can still remember what a wet rag I was at 10 P.M. that April night."

I was required to go on duty as first of eight internes in two weeks. It was a great experience and as I had no home town I remained in N. Y. thirty years.

I do general practice at my Florida home during the winter and enjoy my work and association with people immensely. And still play tennis!

With all my best to you and Jefferson always."

WILLIAM H. TREIBLE, M.D., 845 14th Ave., St. Petersburg, Florida — his wife writes:

"It is with deep appreciation I acknowledge the kind note and beautiful flowers sent to my husband, Dr. Treible, on his eighty-seventh birthday. I regret that his aversion to writing letters makes it necessary for me to thank the Alumni for the kind thought of him. He remains active by sprinkling the lawn, raking leaves and walking about a mile each day. He also finds keen delight in playing cards, listening to baseball and doing a fair amount of reading each day."

Thanking you again for him as well as for myself, with very sincere wishes for continued growth of Jefferson."

- 1900 FREDERICK FLETCHER, M.D., who retired after over a half century of active surgical practice, June 1, 1953, was given a testimonial dinner May 28 at the Columbus Club. Approximately thirty-nine of his friends were present. Dr. William D. Morrison, class of 1922, presided. It was pointed out that Dr. Fletcher has held practically every important key-organizational position in community medicine, including Professorship of Gynecology in the Ohio State University Medical School.

- 1901 ERNEST W. DIGGETT, M.D., England. Mrs. Edgar N. Brawner, Dr. Diggett's daughter, writes:

"I have just gotten a letter from Dad asking me to send you a check for his contribution to the "Annual Giving Fund" as he can get only a limited amount from his bank to be sent out of England. I know how very much interested he is in Jefferson and that he does want to contribute, so I am enclosing a check."

J. ARTHUR METZ, M.D., 128 East 5th Street, East Liverpool, Ohio, writes:

"I'm a little late with the contribution to the Annual Giving Fund. Have had a rough time since Xmas — "flu", coronary attack. Am still trying to do some medical work, but find it hard. Guess I will not get over to Jeff for the annual banquet."

- 1902 WILLIAM J. RALSTON, M.D., R.F.D. 1, Freeport, Pennsylvania, writes:

"I have before me the Bulletin which I received and always read with great interest. However late, I want to acknowledge with thanks and let you know how much I appreciate my Fifty Year Certificate and Pin received in June, 1952. I will cherish the same during my remaining years and it will have a place beside my State Certificate which I received about the same time."

- 1903 AUGUSTUS H. CLAGETT, M.D., Hickory Hill, Box 246, Stuart, Florida, writes:

"The button given to members the 50th year has just reached me. I shall cherish this little token of friendship and again express my appreciation."

FERDINAND F. FLEDDERJOHANN, M.D., 9 South Main St., New Bremen, Ohio.

Attended his class reunion in Philadelphia.

ALBERT M. GIBSON, M.D., Lower Peach Tree, Alabama, writes:

"Several days ago, I received a beautiful souvenir button as a member of the 1903 Class at Jefferson Medical College. Not knowing how to reach the one who sent it, to extend my profound pleasure and deep appreciation, I am sure you will direct it to the one to whom it should go. Loving Jefferson as I do, I can only say, 'Thank you!'"

I would have found much pleasure in meeting my classmates and celebrating our 50th Anniversary. I am still a cripple from an injury received several years ago."

HENRY E. MILLER, M.D., 207 E. Main Street, Belleville, Pa., writes:

"It has given me pleasure to receive the awards for having practiced medicine for fifty years. I want to thank you for the gold button and 'Diploma'.

The fifty years that I have practiced medicine, from a retrospective view, does not seem long. Aside from several small hobbies I have given my entire time to the practice of medicine in a rural district, and have tried to keep pace with my profession by regularly attending State and County Society meetings and special clinics of various types that fit with general practice. Whatever time I have left I will continue as a student."

JAMES H. SWAN, M.D., St. Thomas, Pa., was honored June 19, by the Franklin County Medical Society for fifty years of medical practice. He was given a dinner at the Anthony Wayne Hotel, Waynesboro, and presented with a plaque in commemoration of a half-century's practice of medicine. Dr. Swan in his talk said that he was a country doctor who had taught school for eight years before he became a physician at the age of thirty. It has been a hard but useful life and the still practicing Physician has no regrets. "I believe I've been more useful in this work than in any other thing I might have done. From the time I was 7 years old I wanted to be a doctor and I believe I wouldn't have been happy in any other profession." The host of families he has served during his 48 years of practice in St. Thomas are happy too that he chose medicine. He has been their confidant and friend as well as physician. In three instances he has administered to the needs of five generations of a family.

- 1905 ALEXANDER J. ORENSTEIN, M.D., Rand Mines, Limited, P.O. Box 1056, Johannesburg, South Africa, writes:

"In looking through the schedule of Class Standing, I was sadly reminded of the flight of time — only 60 men alive out of some 150, if I remember correctly, who graduated with me. Dr. Lehman's letter underlines the aging of all of us. I suppose I am one of the few who still continue in full the work we have been doing. I am reminded that my Annual Report now in the Printer's hands is the 39th in my present employment, and an elaborate certificate from the American Public Health Association tells me I have completed 40 years as Member and Fellow!

- 1907 GEORGE T. FOX, M.D., 336 Radcliffe Street, Bristol, Pa., writes:

"Your recent letter has been received and I am very glad to hear from you. In February I was hospitalized at Jefferson for pneumonia. When I returned home I did not resume practice until just recently so please pardon my delay in sending my Annual Giving Fund Contribution. Best regards to you personally. You have been a credit to our class.

- 1908 JOHN G. PATTERSON, M.D., 432 Main Street, Klamath Falls, Oregon, writes:

"I enjoy a session with all of you but my health will not permit. This last year has taken a heavy toll. Not the rugged chap of former years. My love to all surviving classmates. You probably remember I'm in my eighty-second year and being buffeted around by the thoughtless younger set.

- 1913 PAUL E. HASKETT, M.D., 1941 N. W. 19th Street, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, informed us he has retired from active practice and expects to enjoy traveling for awhile.

- 1914 JAMES R. REULING, M.D., 217-07 40th Ave., Bayside, New York, was awarded the Will Ross Medal, the highest award to be conferred by the National Tuberculosis Association at the annual meeting in Los Angeles for his work in fighting the disease in a field other than the medical sciences. He is the second man to be so honored. Dr. Reuling is active in both local and national medical associations. He has been a member of the Board of Managers of the Queensboro TB and Health Associations since 1937 and served as president of the group from 1939 to 1945. He was also chairman of the Council of TB and Health Associations of Greater New York. He was a Director at Large of the National TB Association in 1944 and also served as national president in 1947. He is the past president of the Queens County Medical Association and past treasurer of the N. Y. State Medical Association. He is now speaker in the House of Delegates, the policy making body of the American Medical Association.

- 1915 GEORGE N. HERRING, M.D., Easthaven Hospital, Richmond, Indiana, writes:

"I had put your letter aside with the intentions of getting to it soon, but it seems that other affairs intervened. I welcome your letters and am always interested in the progress at Jefferson."

ISIAH C. MORGAN, M.D., died April 26, 1953 from a heart attack.

Mrs. Isiah C. Morgan writes — "Dr. Morgan died April 26, 1953 from a heart attack. In going over some correspondence I found your letter of May 1, relative to a donation for the class of 1915. My husband had talked about sending this — so I am enclosing my check."

- 1917 ROBERT L. MILLER, M.D., 258½ South Beach Street, Daytona Beach, Florida.

Dr. Robert L. Miller of Daytona Beach, who for twenty years has been secretary of the Volusia County Medical Society, was honored by the Society on February 10 with a surprise dinner. Dr. Miller, who has also served as president of the Society, was given a set of power tools in commemoration of his long years of service to the Society and to the community.

- 1919 HARRY F. COOPER, M.D., Beckley Hospital, Beckley, West Virginia, writes:

"We have moved back to the hills of West Virginia and therefore much closer to Jefferson so that I hope that I will be able to attend more of the school functions in the future than I have been able to in the past.

Good luck for a successful drive and a new school year.

JOHN P. HUNTER, M.D., Cary, N. C., writes:

"I expect to be up there for the clinics and alumni dinner."

1920 JAIME DE LA GUARDIA, M.D., is Professor of Surgery at the University of Panama.

1921 NANCY PIERCE LEMMON, daughter of DR. AND MRS. WILLIAM T. LEMMON, of Ardmore, was married to DR. I. WILLIAM LEMKER, JR., son of MR. AND MRS. IRVING B. LEMKER of Reading, Pa., June 6 at 4 o'clock in the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church. Our best wishes to the young couple.

1924 THOMAS F. COOPER, M.D., 495 Summer Street, Boston 10, Mass., writes:

"I think you are to be congratulated for the fine response you have obtained from the members of '24 to date and I am sure that the goal will be met. I am being transferred to Washington in July where I will assume duties as Assistant Chief of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery for Planning and Logistics. Mail will reach me after July 1 at: Navy Dept., Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Washington 25, D. C."

SAMUEL S. SHAPIRO, M.D., 1412 North 4th Street, Philadelphia 22, Pa., writes:

"I hope my check and what you have received from other classmen since your last letter, will help to swell the amount our class has contributed, so that we may be one of the top classes in this fund raising campaign."

This was found in a news clipping of thirty years ago, Lansdale, Pa.

"Harold Warner, who has completed his studies at Jefferson Medical College for this year, will leave shortly for Danville, Pa., where he will spend the vacation period as a member of the staff of the hospital at that place. He has one more year to go at Jefferson.

1928 JO ONO, M.D., Tokyo, Japan, writes:

"Since I am not in position at present to make a trip to the States, the only alternative is that I hope to see more of the Jefferson men dropping in to call on me as there must be quite a few among so many medical men who are passing through Tokyo these days on their way to and from Korea."

1929 WILLIAM E. DELICATE, M.D., 206 North Maine Street, Edwardsville, Illinois, writes:

"Just a note to thank you for your prescription on my birthday. One of my patients informed me that her birthday was April 5th and also Easter and ninety years ago April 5th was Easter. I don't suppose that I shall live to be either 90 or to see another of my birthdays falling on Easter. However, I remember old Dr. Keen writing a note to the AKK's when they invited him to a party, saying that the first one hundred years were the hardest and that he would have to decline the invitation at that time, but if they would invite him again in four years, at which time he would be one hundred years old, he would be glad to accept. I am afraid that the old gentlemen did not quite make it.

I am enclosing a check. I regret that it can't be more and it won't do very much toward increasing the total amount our class has donated, however, it will indicate my continued interest in the welfare of Jefferson. I sincerely hope that next year I shall be able to do better.

Best wishes to you and to all the rest of my friends whom we used to know.

JOHN W. GAHAN, M.D., 27 Washington Street, Medford, Mass. —

"I suppose you see many of the 1929's and of course the group at Jeff. Please remember me to any whom I may know. I notice that a new building is in progress at 11th and Walnut. One of these days I hope to see it.

Did you know of Joe Parrish's death? Joe was one of the finest. His going leaves a real void in our class and for all who knew him. I am grateful to Jeff for many things; in particular to have been able to have found there such a great and good friend. Though his work is done, his memory endures. May God rest his soul and the others of '29 who have so soon answered the inevitable call.

Again my appreciation of your thoughtfulness and be assured of my best wishes for you and yours."

WILLIAM H. IZLAR, M.D., 426 Ingraham Building, Miami 32, Florida, writes:

"I am enclosing just a token for the Alumni Fund. Will do better when I am older. Have a son graduating from University of North Carolina in June."

CARL L. MINIER, M.D., 153 Mt. Pleasant Avenue, West Orange, N. J., writes:

"The enclosed is but a small token — primarily to help increase the number and percent. Wish it could be at least ten times this amount, but many obligations including a son, now a freshman at Jefferson, prevent it."

1930 ORAN W. GUNNET, M.D., Codorus, Pa., writes:

"I have no special news for you except to say I am looking forward to our next reunion."

JOHN R. KUHN, JR., M.D., 321 Frisco Bldg., Joplin, Missouri —

"Sorry to be so late. You are to be commended for the effort put forth to make it possible for these funds to go forward."

EDWARD J. WAGNER, M.D., 333 West 57th Street, New York City, writes:

"Have moved most of my practice to Ridgefield, Connecticut. I still come to New York once a week. You are doing a great job. Keep up the good work! I'm enclosing my check — sorry it is not for a thousand times more."

1932 SAMUEL R. BRANDWAN, M.D., 804 Rose Bldg., Cleveland 15, Ohio —

"I am enclosing a little something for the fund. I've always been grateful to Jefferson for the fine medical education she has given me. However, my gratitude has always been greater than my financial response."

DONALD A. R. MORRISON, M.D., 122 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago 3, Illinois:

"Please find enclosed my check to complete the payments on my 19th and 20th notes to the Alumni Association."

1933 MRS. JOHN R. BOWER of 434 Friedensberg Road, Reading, Pa., writes:

"I am sending John's personal contribution to the Alumni Giving Fund and hope your class participation will be 100%. My husband is looking forward to seeing you at the 20th Class Reunion.

MORTON J. CROW, M.D., 3144 East Market Street, Warren, Ohio, writes:

"Just got back to the office after a serious illness but we can't let Jeff down — I'm enclosing my check."

1934 ROSCOE P. KANDLE, M.D., 20 Edgemere Avenue, Trenton 8, N. J. —

"Here is the Alumni Giving Check. Sorry for the long delay due to my own oversight."

1935 PAUL M. RIFFERT, M.D., Ephrata, Pa., wrote that he would not be able to attend the Alumni Banquet this year. However, he would like to take some of the residents of Dr. Shallow's Service if they had not already been taken care of.

1936 GABRIEL E. DECICCO, M.D., 207 Mill Creek Drive, Youngstown 12, Ohio, writes:

"Sorry my check this year isn't as large as usual. I've just bought a home, the church is rebuilding and I am being admitted to the hospital today. I'll try to do better next time."

1939 CLAUDE N. HERNDON, JR., M.D., Bowman Gray School of Medicine, Winston-Salem 7, N. C., writes:

"You are a persistent cuss, Paul. I'll at least pay for your postage."

1941 JOHN C. CRESSLER, Lt. Colonel, MC, Deputy Commander William Beaumont Army Hospital, Office of the Commanding Officer, El Paso, Texas:

I am enclosing my check to redeem some of my notes. I trust that this will in some way help the situation.

1944-J HARRY W. COHEN, M.D., 1026 Medical Arts Building, Phila., writes:

"I have been delaying my contribution to the Alumni Fund this year with the hope I could contribute more than previous years. Please accept my check with best wishes for the success of the fund and to you personally."

JOHN B. FLYNN, M.D., The Colony Medical Group, 118 Colony Street, Meriden, Connecticut, writes:

"Sorry I have overlooked sending you the enclosed check. Sincerely hope your efforts have been well rewarded."

1944-S JAMES D. BERRY, M.D., 536 Mason Street, San Francisco, writes:

"Since January 1, 1953, I have been in the private practice of General and Thoracic Surgery in San Francisco, with offices located at 536 Mason Street, San Francisco 2. I do clinical and out-patient teaching at the University of California Medical School and currently have a research project underway there. I would welcome a visit from any alumni of Jefferson who may be in San Francisco."

ROBERT M. KERR, M.D., 204 South Franklin Street, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., has received his certification as a specialist in Internal Medicine by the American Board of Internal Medicine. JOHN MILTON LEVINSON, M.D., son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Levinson, of Margate City, was married to Miss Elizabeth Carl Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinsloe Bell, at 4 P.M. Saturday, June 13 at the Bell residence. After their wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple will reside in Margate while Dr. Levinson serves his internship at the Atlantic City Hospital.

EDWARD A. WILTON, M.D., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilton, 320 Coolidge Blvd., Norristown, was married the latter part of June. Our best wishes to the young couple.

If you have an address for any of the Graduates listed below, it would be greatly appreciated if you would send it to the Alumni Office, 1025 Walnut Street. We are most anxious to have these men receive their mail.
